Whom the Act affects.

1. The Act applies to the payment of wages to persons in this factory receiving less than Rs. 200 a month.

2. No employed person can give up by contract or agreement his rights under the Act.

Definition of wages.

3. "Wages" means all remuneration payable to an employed person on the fulfilment of his contract of employment.

It includes bonus and any sum payable for want of a proper notice of discharge.

It excludes:—

(a) the value of house-accommodation, supply of light, water medical attendance, or other amenity or of any service excluded by the Central Government;

(b) the employer's contribution to a pension or provident fund;

(c) travelling allowance or concession or other special expenses entailed by the employment;

(d) any gratuity payable on discharge.

Responsibility for and method of payment.

4. The manager of the factory is responsible for the payment under the Act of wages to persons employed under him, and any contractor employing persons is responsible for payment to the persons he employs.

5. Wage-periods shall be fixed for the payment of wages at intervals not exceeding one month.

6. Wages shall be paid on a working day within 7 days of the end of the wage-period (or within 10 days if 1,000 or more persons are employed).

The wages of a person discharged shall be paid not later than the second working day after his discharge.

7. Payments in kind are prohibited.

Fines and deductions.

8. No deductions shall be made from wages except those authorised under the Act (see paragraphs 9—15 below).

9. (1) Fines can be imposed only for such acts and omissions as the employer may, with the previous approval of the Supervisor, specify by a notice displayed at or near the main entrance of the factory and after giving the employed person an opportunity for explanation.

(2) Fines—

(a) shall not exceed half-an-anna in the rupee;

(b) shall not be recovered by instalments, or later than sixty days of the date of imposition;

(c) shall be recorded in a register and applied to such purposes beneficial to the employed persons as approved by the Supervisor;

(d) shall not be imposed on a child.

10. (a) Deductions for absence from duty can be made only on account of the absence of the employed person at times when he should be working and such deductions must not exceed an amount which is in the same proportion to his wages for the wage-period, as the time he was absent in that period is to the total time he should have been at work.

(b) If ten or more employed persons, acting in concert, absent themselves without reasonable cause and without due notice, the deduction for absence can include wages for eight days in lieu of notice, but:—

(1) no deduction for breaking a contract can be made from a person under 15 or a woman,

(2) there must be a provision in writing which for part of the contract of employment, requiring that a specific period of notice of intention to cease work not exceeding 15 days or the period of notice which the employer has to give to discharge a worker, must be given to the employer and that wages may be deducted in lieu of such notice,

(3) the above provision must be displayed at or near the main entrance of the factory,

(4) no deduction of this nature can be made until a notice that this deduction is to be made has been posted at or near the main entrance of the factory,

(5) no deduction must exceed the wages of the employed person for the period by which the notice he gives of leaving employment, is less than the notice he should give under his contract.

11. Deductions can be made for damage to or loss of goods expressly entrusted to an employed person or for loss of money for which he is required to account, where such damage or loss is due to his neglect or default.

Such deduction cannot exceed the amount of the damage or loss caused and can be made only after giving the employed person an opportunity for explanation.

12. Deductions can be made, equivalent to the value thereof, for house accommodation, amenities, or services (other than tools and raw material) supplied by the employer provided these are accepted by the employed person as a part of the terms of his employment and have in the case of amenities and services been authorised by order of the Central Government.

13. (a) Deductions can be made for the recovery of advances, or for adjustment of overpayment of wages.

(b) Advances made before the employment began can only be recovered from the first payment of wages for a complete wage-period but no recovery can be made of advances given for travelling expenses before employment began.

(c) Advances of unearned wages can be made at the paymaster's discretion during employment.

14. Deductions can be made for subscription to and for repayment of advances from any recognised provident fund.

15. Deductions can be made for payments to co-operative societies approved by the Central Government or to the postal insurance, subject to any conditions imposed by the Central Government.

Inspections.

16. An Inspector can enter on any premises, and can exercise powers of inspection (including examination of documents and taking of evidence) as he may deem necessary for carrying out the purposes of the Act.

Complaints of deductions or delays.

17. (1) Where irregular deductions are made from wages, or delays in payment take place, an employed person can make an application in the prescribed form within 6 months to the Authority appointed by the Local Government for the purpose. An application delayed beyond this period may be rejected unless sufficient cause for the delay is shown.

(2) Any legal practitioner, official of a registered trade union, Inspector under the Act, or other person acting with the permission of the Authority can make the complaint on behalf of an employed person.

(3) A single application may be presented by, or on behalf of, any number of persons belonging to the same factory the payment of whose wages has been delayed.

Action by the Authority.

18. The authority may award compensation to the employed person in addition to ordering the payment of delayed wages or the refund of illegal deductions.

If a malicious or vexatious complaint is made, the Authority may impose a penalty not exceeding Rs. 50 on the applicant and order that it be paid to the employer.

Appeal against the Authority.

19. An appeal in the prescribed form against a direction made by the Authority may be preferred within 30 days in Madras, Bombay, Calcutta, to the Court of Small Causes and elsewhere to the District Court—

(a) by the paymaster if the total amount directed to be paid exceeds Rs. 300;

(b) by an employed person, if the total amount of wages withheld from him or his co-workers, exceeds Rs. 50;

(c) by a person directed to pay a penalty for a malicious or vexatious application.

Punishments for breaches of the Act.

20. Anyone delaying the payment of wages beyond the due date, or making any unauthorised deduction from wages is liable to a fine up to Rs. 500, but only if prosecuted with the sanction of the Authority or the appellate Court.

21. The paymaster who,—

(1) does not fix a wage-period, or

(2) makes payment in kind, or

(3) fails to display at or near the main entrance of the factory this Abstract in English and in the language of the majority of the employed persons, or

(4) breaks certain rules made under the Act, is liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 200.

"CHAPTER VB.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO AVOIDANCE OF LIABILITY TO INCOME-TAX AND SUPER-TAX BY TRANSFERS OF ASSETS ABROAD.

Avoidance of income-tax by transactions resulting in the transfer of income to persons abroad.

44D. (1) Where any person has, by means of a transfer of assets, by virtue or in consequence whereof, either alone or in conjunction with associated operations, income becomes payable to a person not resident in British India, acquired any rights by virtue of which he has within the meaning of this section power to enjoy, whether forthwith or in the future, any income of a person not resident in British India which, if it were income of such first mentioned person, would be chargeable to income-tax, that income shall, whether it would or would not have been chargeable to income-tax apart from the provisions of this section, be deemed to be income of such first mentioned person for all purposes of this Act:

Provided that this sub-section shall not apply if such first mentioned person shows to the satisfaction of the Income-tax Officer that the transfer and any associated operations were effected mainly for some purpose other than the purpose of avoiding liability to taxation.

(2) For the purposes of this section, an 'associated operation' means, in relation to any transfer, an operation of any kind effected by any person in relation to any of the assets transferred or any assets representing whether directly or indirectly any of the assets transferred, or to the income arising from any such assets, or to any assets representing whether directly or indirectly any of the assets transferred, or to any assets representing whether directly or indirectly the accumulations of income arising from any such assets.

(3) A person shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to have power to enjoy income of another person not resident in British India, if—

(a) the income is in fact so dealt with by any person as to be calculated at some point of time and, whether in the form of income or not, to enure for the benefit of the first mentioned person, or

(b) the receipt or accrual of the income operate to increase the value to such first mentioned person of any assets held by him or for his benefit, or

(c) such first mentioned person receives or is entitled to receive at any time any benefit provided or to be provided out of that income or out of moneys which are or will be available for the purpose by reason of the effect or successive effects of the associated operations on that income and on any assets which represent that income, or

(d) such first mentioned person has power by means of the exercise of any power of appointment or power of revocation or otherwise to obtain for himself, whether with or without the consent of any other person, the beneficial enjoyment of the income, or

(e) such first mentioned person is able, in any manner whatsoever and whether directly or indirectly, to control the application of the income.

(4) In determining whether a person has power to enjoy income within the meaning of this section, regard shall be had to the substantial result and effect of the transfer and any associated operations, and all benefits which may at any time accrue to such person as a result of the transfer and any associated operations shall be taken into account irrespective of the nature or form of the benefits.

(5) For the purposes of this section—

(a) the expression 'assets' includes property or rights of any kind, and the expression 'transfer' in relation to rights includes the creation of those rights;

(b) the expression 'benefit' includes a payment of any kind;

(c) references to income of a person not resident in British India shall, where the amount of the income of a company for any year or period has been deemed to have been distributed under sub-section (1) of section 23A, include references to so much of the income of the company for that year or period as is equal to the amount deemed to have been distributed to that person;

(d) references to assets representing any assets, income or accumulations of income include references to shares in or obligations of any company to which, or obligation of any other person to whom, those assets, that income or those accumulations are or have been transferred.

(6) The provisions of this section shall apply for the purposes of assessment to income-tax and super-tax for the financial year 1939-40 and subsequent years, and shall apply, in relation to transfer of assets and associated operations whether carried out before or after the commencement of the Indian Income-tax (Amendment) Act, 1938.

(7) Where any person has been charged to tax on any income deemed to be his under the provisions of this section, and that income is subsequently received by him, whether as income or in any other form, it shall not again be deemed to form part of his income for the purposes of this Act."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of the Bill is to give effect to such recommendations of the Income-tax Enquiry Report, 1936, as have been accepted and to make such amendments to the Income-tax Act as experience of its working has indicated to be necessary or desirable. The provisions of the Bill (other than some minor or consequential amendments) are explained in detail in the notes on clauses below.

P. J. GRIGG.

NEW DELHI;

The 2nd April, 1938.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 2 of the Bill amends section 2 of the Act—Definitions.

Section 2, Clause (6A)—a new provision—defines "dividend".

To prevent the avoidance of super-tax which would otherwise be payable by the shareholders by the device of distributing the profits in the form of bonus shares, bonus debentures or some other form which, as the law stands at present, are capital receipts and not income in the hands of the shareholders, dividend is defined in such a way that wherever the shareholders receive profits in any of such forms it can be treated as income for tax purposes. The definition also covers the case where a Company goes into liquidation and the accumulated profits are distributed by the liquidator to the former shareholders. Income is then defined in section 2, clause (6C), to include any dividend as defined in section 2, clause (6A), and also to include distributions from unrecognised Provident Funds.

Section 2, Clauses (3), (6D), (6E).—Appellate Assistant Commissioners, Inspecting Assistant Commissioners and Inspectors are defined as the result of the amendment to section 5 (clause 6).

Section 2, Clause (6B).—The inclusion of a minor admitted to the benefits of partnership in the expression "partner" obviates further reference to him in the Act.

Section 2, Clause (11).—The definition of "previous year" is amended so as to—

(1) allow an assessee to have separate previous years for each separate source of income;

(2) to prevent double assessment of the same profits when the assessee exercises the option to change his "previous year" for the first time after his first year of assessment;

(3) to prevent double assessment of the same profits in the case of a newly set up business;

(4) to prescribe the "previous year" of the firm as the partner's "previous year" in respect of his share.

Section 2, Clause (15).—The definition of "total income" is amended and the clause as amended includes a definition of "total world income" which is necessary for the purpose of assessing non-residents.

Clause 3 amends section 3.—The object of the amendment is to enable assessment to be made on individual partners of firms or on individual members of associations of persons. [Section 23 (5)—Clause 23 (b), for example, provides for direct assessment of partners.] Throughout the Act the words "association of persons" are substituted for "association of individuals" in order to cover all cases of associations of persons.

Clause 4 amends section 4—Application of the Act.

Sub-section (1).—At present under the provisions of section 4 the Act applies to income which accrues or arises or is received or is deemed to accrue or arise or be received in British India and, in addition, in the case of a resident, to income accruing or arising outside British India if received in or brought into British India. The Bill enlarges the scope of the section by including—

(1) the whole of the foreign income of a person resident and domiciled in British India whether brought into British India or not;

(2) the whole of the foreign income from business, profession or vocation of a person resident but not domiciled in British India whether brought into British India or not. The other foreign income of such a person remains liable only if brought into British India.

These amendments follow the provisions of the United Kingdom law except in respect of the foreign income of domiciled and resident persons other than income from business, securities, stocks, shares or rents. Such income in the United Kingdom is taxed on the remittance basis whereas the Bill proposes to tax it on the accruing or arising basis. The United Kingdom provisions in regard to this class of income were not followed because in practice they have given rise to difficulties.

An important omission from the amended sub-section (1) is the proviso exempting income from agriculture in an Indian State.

Explanation 2.—Judicial decisions on the question of the liability to tax of income from "salaries" make it necessary to make the earning of the salary in British India the basis of the liability. Only pensions payable without India are excluded.

Sub-section (2) makes taxable the remittances made by a non-resident husband to a resident wife.

Sub-section (3)—Exemptions—

Clause (a).—The exemptions in the Act at present do not in terms apply to income from business carried on by religious or charitable institutions though in practice such exemption is given. This amendment gives legal authority for the practice but confines the exemption to cases where the business activities are in themselves a primary purpose of the institution or the work in connection with the business is mainly carried on by the beneficiaries.

Clause (iii).—At present all income of local authorities is exempted. If a local authority makes profits from supplying a commodity or service outside its jurisdiction it is considered that exemption should not be given to those profits and this amendment gives effect to that view.

Clause (v).—The Privy Council (in Shaw Wallace case—6 I. T. C. 178) has ruled that capital sums received in commutation of pension or as consolidated compensation for death or injuries or in payment of an insurance policy or as the accumulated balance from a Government Provident Fund could not in any scheme of taxation be regarded as income. Specific exemption therefore is superfluous and the provision is deleted. (Note on clause 8 may be referred to.)

The amendment added at the end of sub-section (3) is designed to prevent the abuse of the exemption given to the income of religious trusts. It prescribes that the exemption shall not be given to income of a private religious trust which does not enure to the benefit of the public.

Clause 5 introduces a new section 4A. Owing to the enlargement of the scope of section 4 of the Act by clause 4 of the Bill, residence and domicile have to be defined for certain cases and they are defined here.

Clause 6 amends section 5 which deals with Income-tax authorities. It has been decided to divide Assistant Commissioners of Income-tax into Appellate Assistant Commissioners and Inspecting Assistant Commissioners and to place the former under the control of the Central Board of Revenue. This clause amends section 5 accordingly and in addition includes amongst Income-tax authorities Income-tax Inspectors who are to have power to enter premises to make enquiries. [Section 38(2), clause 42(2).]

Clause 7.—Section 6 specifies six heads of chargeable income. They are now reduced to five owing to the amalgamation of sections 10 (clause 10) (business) and 11 (clause 11) (profession or vocation). For the sake of consistency some verbal alterations have been made in the classification.

Clause 8.—Section 7 which deals with income under the head "Salaries" is here amended so as to make sums due under that head liable on the date when they are due whether paid or not. Advances and loans of such income are deemed to be salary due on the date when received. The object of this amendment is to defeat evasion by postponing drawal of salary or by taking advances or loans.

Explanation 2 read with the definition of 'income" in clause 2(d) nullifies for the future in respect of the payments with which it deals the effect of the Privy Council decision in the Shaw Wallace case (6 I. T. C. 178). [Note on clause 4—section 4 (3)-(v) may be referred to.] To mitigate the hardship that would be caused by assessing accumulated payments of this kind at the rate applicable to the total income of the year of receipt an amendment is proposed in section 60 (2) (clause 70).

Clause 9 amends section 9 which deals with property income.

Sub-section (l).—The exemption given to property occupied for business purposes is restricted to property occupied for the purpose of an assessable business, profession or vocation.

Sub-section (l) (iv).—At present interest on any capital charge on the property is allowed even though the capital was borrowed for private purposes; and interest on capital borrowed for the purpose of acquiring the property is allowed even though there is no charge on the property. The amended clause (iv) alters the position so as to allow only interest on a charge to which the property was subject at the time of acquisition by the assessee and interest on capital borrowed for the purpose of acquiring, repairing, renewing or reconstructing the property. It further allows—what is not now allowed—an annual charge not being a capital charge to which the property was subject at the time of its acquisition by the assessee.

In order to secure that tax shall be collected on such interest or charges payable outside British India it is provided that no allowance shall be made in respect of them unless tax has been deducted therefrom. There is a similar provision in section 10 [clause 10(b) (i), proviso] and section 12 [clause 12(b), proviso (b)]. Interest on a public loan issued before 1st April 1938 is excepted.

The proviso to sub-section (1) which restricts the allowances in respect of property to the amount of the annual value is deleted. As a result a loss on property will be allowed.

The proviso to sub-section (2) which restricts the annual value of owner occupied property to 10 per cent. of its owner's total income is also deleted. This amendment remedies the present anomaly of the annual value of the property varying with the assessee's other income.

Sub-section (3).—Property is often owned jointly by persons with definite shares and the High Courts have held that such persons are assessable on the income from the property as an association of individuals. This amendment provides that such persons shall not be assessed as an association but that their shares will be included in their individual assessments.

Clause 10 amends section 10.

Sub-section (1) brings income from professions and vocations under the same head as income from business. [Section 11 (clause 11) is deleted].

Sub-section (2) (vii) allows interest on capital borrowed for the purposes of the business subject to the condition that the payment of interest is not in any way dependent on the earning of profits. The amendment deletes this latter condition but withdraws the allowance to a firm in the case of interest paid to a partner and to any assessee in the case of interest payable without British India (not being on a public loan issued before 1st April 1938) except interest from which tax has been deducted [see section 9(i) (iv), clause 9].

Sub-section 2(v) as amended alters the basis upon which depreciation allowance is to be calculated from the "original cost" to the original cost less the sums previously allowed for depreciation, and except in the case of unabsorbed depreciation which the assessee is entitled at the commencement of the amending Act to carry forward to a succeeding year, it treats depreciation on the same footing as any other expense of the business. Consequently depreciation for any year subsequent to the commencement of the amending Act can only be carried forward for as long as any other loss can be carried forward. But the unabsorbed depreciation at the commencement of the amending Act may be carried forward until fully allowed and is to be allowed before the depreciation due in respect of subsequent years.

It is found in practice that frequently the assessee writes off in his accounts much less than the amount of depreciation at the prescribed rates. Proviso (b) to section 10(2) (vi) has therefore been amended so as to restrict the allowance for depreciation to the amount written off in the assessee's accounts.

Sub-section (2) (vii) prescribes the allowance for machinery or plant sold or discarded in consequence of its having become obsolete. This allowance is now to be given in respect of any machinery or plant sold or discarded and is to be the difference between the excess of the written down value over the sale price or scrap value provided that this amount is written off in the books of the assessee. Any excess of the sale price or scrap value over the written down value is to be treated as an assessable profit.

Sub-section (2) (xi), a new provision, which gives an allowance in respect of bad and doubtful debts written off in the accounts of the assessee.

Five new sub-sections (3), (4), (5), (6) and (7) are added in section 10 after sub-section (2). Sub-section (3) gives in the case of assets not wholly used for the purposes of the business a proportionate part of the allowance for insurance premia, repairs, depreciation and obsolescence.

Sub-section (4) repeats the present proviso to section 10(2) (ix) forbidding the allowance of cesses, rates or taxes on business profits and also forbids (a) the allowance of sums chargeable under the head "salaries if payable without British India" and tax is not deducted therefrom, (b) payments by a firm to any partner and (c) payments by an employer to a Provident or other such fund if he has not made effective arrangements to have tax deducted from payments made from the fund.

The disallowance of salary payments abroad is repeated in section 12(2), proviso (c)—(Clause 12). The disallowance in respect of Provident Funds is necessary because in practice it is found that payments of accumulated balances from such fund are made abroad and the Income-tax authorities have no means of recovering tax on them.

Sub-section (5) contains definitions the chief of which is the definition of "written down value" for the purpose of depreciation and obsolescence allowances. 'Plant' is defined as including books purchased for the purpose of the business, profession and vocation.

Sub-section (6) makes liable to tax the profits of a trade, professional or similar association performing services for its members for remuneration.

Sub-section (7) repeats sub-section (3) of section 11.

Clause 12 amends section 12.

Sub-section (2) as amended disallows interest (other than interest on a public loan issued before 1st April 1938) and 'salaries' payable without British India from which tax has not been deducted. [Compare amended sections 9(i) (v), proviso (clause 9), 10(2) (iii), proviso and 10(4) (a) (clause 10)].

Sub-section (3)—a new provision—grants depreciation on machinery, plant and furniture let out on hire. If the business of the assessee is letting machinery, plant and furniture on hire he will be entitled to the allowance under the provisions of section 10(2) (vi).

Clause 14 amends section 14.

Sub-section (2) (a) exempts from taxation dividends of companies whose profits have been assessed to tax. This provision needed amendment as the result of a Privy Council decision that it exempts the whole dividend even when only part of the Company's profits have been taxed. Instead of amending it, it has been decided to delete it and amend section 16(2) and section 18(5) [clauses 16(2) and 18]. The result of these changes will be that a dividend will no longer be exempt. It will be on the same footing as interest on securities and credit for the appropriate amount of tax on it will be given in the assessment. Other sections affected are sections 48 and 49 (Clauses 51 and 53).

Sub-section (2), clauses (b) and (c) of section 14 exempt the proportionate shares of the taxed profits of firms and associations of individuals. Since it has been decided [section 23(5)—clause 23] to tax the partners of registered firms directly, this sub-section as amended relates only to unregistered firms and it exempts not the amount (which is now exempted) of the firm's profits proportionate to the assessee's share therein at the time of making the assessment but the portion of the firm's taxed profits which the assessee is entitled to receive. This change is made in pursuance of a decision to take as the basis for income-tax purposes the actual shares of the previous year. The same basis for income-tax purposes the actual shares of the previous year. The same principle has been adopted in amending section 26 (clause 30).

Sub-section (2) (c) of section 14 as now amended exempts not the amount which a member of an association receives but the amount that he is entitled to receive.

Clause 15.—Section 15 gives exemption in the case of life insurance premia and payments to Provident Funds and limits the exemption in respect of those payments and payments to Family Pension Funds to 1/6th of total income. In the case of large incomes this is too generous an allowance and therefore sub-section (3) as amended limits it to Rs. 6,000.

Sub-section (4)—a new provision—prescribes that the foregoing exemption shall be given at the average of the rates applicable to the total income. This method of giving the exemption is based on the "slab" system which it is proposed to adopt in future in prescribing rates of income-tax in the annual Finance Act. Under the present system of rates of income-tax, tax is charged at the same rate on the whole income; under the slab system progressive rates are applied to successive slices of income. This is the system now in operation for the charge of super-tax.

Clause 16.—Section 16 specifies certain sums which are to be included in "total income". It is amended by this clause in the following ways:—

Sub-section (1) (b), a new provision, prescribes the way in which the share (whether profit or loss) of a partner in a firm is to be computed. This method of computation follows the amendment of section 10(4) (b), (clause 10) disallowing in the firm's assessment payments to partners.

Sub-section (1) (c), is an important provision designed to prevent the avoidance of tax by the simple device of settling income upon another person whose rate of tax is lower than that of the settlor, or the transfer of assets, so that the income therefrom arises to such other person. This amendment provides that the income in such a case is to be treated as the income of the settlor or transferor. Where, however, the assets are irrevocably transferred to another person, other than in the circumstances dealt with in sub-section (3) (b) or in clause 48, the income therefrom is not to be deemed to be income of the transferor.

Sub-section (2) of section 16 provides for the inclusion in "total income" of the tax on the dividend along with the dividend. As amended it provides for the inclusion in "total income" of only the appropriate amount of tax in the case of a dividend from partly taxed profits (see note on clause 14). The form of the sub-section has been altered to suit the definition of "dividend" in section 2(6A), (clause 2).

Sub-section (3) (b)—The wording of this clause has been found to be defective as it may be possible for a person to transfer income to an association of individuals which includes a person other than that individual or his wife but in such circumstances that the income becomes the income of the wife or minor child. For this reason the words "consisting of such individual and his wife" are being omitted and the words "for the benefit of his wife or a minor child or both" are being added. It will be seen that the provisions in sub-section (1) (c) cover all cases of transfers of income and also cover cases of revocable transfers of assets. This clause as now amended covers the further cases of irrevocable transfers of assets where the income accrues to the benefit of the wife or minor child of the transferor.

Clause 17 deletes section 17 (marginal relief) which becomes superfluous owing to the adoption of the "slab" system of rates, and substitutes a new section 17 prescribing the way tax is to be determined in certain cases.

Section 17(1).—Husband and wife are to be assessed separately at the rate applicable to the total income of both, subject to an allowance up to Rs. 500 in the case of income earned by the personal exertions of the wife.

Sub-sections (2) and (3), determine the tax payable by non-residents with non-taxable foreign income and persons with exempted income which is included in total income. The principle adopted is to calculate the tax (including super-tax) on the whole income of the assessee and levy that proportion of it which the liable income bears to the whole income. The important point about this amendment is that the rate applied to the taxable income is the rate applicable to the whole income. In the case of non-British non-residents income-tax will be payable at the maximum rate.

Clause 18.—Section 18 deals with deduction of tax at source and this clause amends it in the following ways:—

Sub-section (2) as amended provides for deduction of super-tax at source from "salaries" and is otherwise amended to conform with the "slab" system of rates.

Sub-section (2B), a new provision, provides for the deduction of income-tax at the maximum rate and super-tax at source from "salaries" payable to non-residents.

Sub-section (3A), a new provision, provides for deduction of tax at source from interest and other payments made to non-residents. In the case of residents it is not advisable to make such deduction because of practical complications, but in the case of non-residents it is advisable to secure the tax in this way if it can be done. Where deduction at source is not practicable, the payments will be disallowed in the payer's assessment (clauses 9, 10 and 12). Consequential amendments are made in sub-sections (3B), (3C) and (3D) [which are renumbered (3C), (3D) and (3E)].

Sub-section (5), as amended, includes income-tax on a dividend as a sum for which credit is to be given to the shareholder in his assessment (see notes on clauses 14 and 51).

Sub-section (7), as amended, provides, in the case of tax not deducted at source under sub-sections (3D) and (3E), for its recovery from the company as well as from the principal officer.

Clause 19 expands section 19 in consequence of the amendment of section 18. Income-tax shall be payable by the assessee direct if not deductable and deducted under section 18.

Clause 20 reduces from Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 200 the minimum amount of the interest payment which the payer has under section 20A to report annually to the Income-tax Officer.

Clause 21 amends section 21 so as to make the annual return of salaries of employees verifiable. A penalty is provided in section 52 (clause 58).

Clause 22 introduces a major change in section 22 by prescribing compulsory returns of income.

Section 22 (1), as amended, prescribes compulsory returns and section 22 (2) in consequence makes optional the issue by the Income-tax Officer of the notice, now compulsory, calling for a return of income. This change in the law follows the United Kingdom law and it is intended as in the United Kingdom that the Income-tax Officer should (as he now does) issue notice to each person whom he believes to have an assessable income. The object of the provision prescribing compulsory returns is to enable the Income-tax authorities to deal with defaulters who conceal the fact that they have taxable incomes. It is not considered right that the onus of finding such persons should be on the Income-tax authorities and this provision coupled with the penalty provisions (clause 32) and the extension of the time for initiating assessments (clause 39) is designed to put the Income-tax authorities in a position to deal adequately with defaulters.

Section 22(3) allows an assessee to file a return or revised return before assessment is made and so to escape an assessment under section 23(4). He is to retain this right [see section 23(4)—clause 23], but in order to prevent him escaping the consequences of submitting an original false return or evading the penalty for failure to submit a return (clause 32), the closing words of this sub-section have been omitted and a suitable proviso has been inserted in section 28 (clause 32).

Section 22 (5), a new provision, takes the place of section 38 (3) which is deleted (clause 42). It is considered that these particulars should be furnished as part of the return of income.

Clause 23 amends section 23.

Sub-section (4), as amended, will not apply to a person who makes a return under section 22 (3) [see note on Section 22 (3) above]. In the case of assessment under this sub-section there has hitherto been no provision in terms for refusal of registration to a firm. This has now been remedied.

Sub-section (5), a new sub-section, provides that in the case of a registered firm the partners and not the firm are to be assessed and that the partners of an unregistered firm may be assessed in the same way if they are avoiding tax by non-registration. A partner's share is to be his share of the previous year's profits (compare clause 14 and clause 30) and he may carry forward his share of loss. The firm is to be assessed on a non-resident partner's share.

Clause 24.—Section 23A of the Income-tax Act, 1922, has proved practically a dead letter, mainly because it imposes upon an Income-tax Officer the duty of determining whether the profits and gains of a Company are allowed to accumulate beyond its reasonable needs, existing and contingent, having regard to the maintenance and development of its business. The present clause substitutes a simple arithmetical criterion for the determination of the applicability of the section to the circumstances of a Company in any year. Subsidiary Companies, and Companies in which the public are substantially interested are still excluded from the operation of the section, but the opportunity has been taken to amend the definition of "Subsidiary Company" so as to remove any doubt as to the meaning of the expression "a Company not being a company to which the provisions of this sub-section apply". The clause also alters the procedure under the section. Instead of passing an order to the effect that the sum payable as income-tax by the Company shall not be determined and that the proportionate share of each member in the profits and gains of the Company shall be included in his total income, the Income-tax Officer has under the present clause merely to deem the profits of the Company to have been distributed as dividends on a given date. The assessment of a Company to both income-tax and super tax will therefore be made whether or not an order is passed under the section in its proposed new form.

Clause 25 makes a major change in section 24 and in the whole scheme of the Act by allowing the carry forward of losses.

Sub-section (1) is amended by a proviso which does not allow any of the partners of an unregistered firm to set off any part of the firm's loss against their incomes. In the case of a registered firm the loss that cannot be set off in the firm's assessment shall be apportioned amongst the partners who alone will be entitled to set off the loss.

Sub-section (2) allows losses in a business, profession or vocation to be carried forward and set off against the profits of the same business, profession or vocation. The period of carry forward is to be six years but to mitigate the effect on the revenue of this concession losses of the first "previous year" after the commencement of the Amending Act are to be carried forward for one year, losses of the next year for 2 years, and so on until the full period of 6 years is reached.

The provisions regarding registered and unregistered firms in sub-section (1) are mutatis mutandis repeated in sub-section (2) and in accordance with the principle given effect to elsewhere that the liability or benefit should attach to the person receiving the profits or incurring the loss it is provided that in the case of a change in a firm's constitution or of a succession only the person incurring the loss will be able to set it off.

Sub-section (3) provides for the computation of the loss in an order in writing and its communication to the assessee (See clause 34).

Clause 26 makes it clear that section 24A applies to a person not previously assessed.

Clause 27 amends section 24B in consequence of the amendment of section 22 (1) (Clause 22) prescribing compulsory returns of income.

Clause 28 amends section 25 [by amending sub-section (3) and adding a new sub-section (4)] so as to give to the first successor to a business, profession or vocation after the commencement of the amending Act the benefit now given by section 3 to the owner of a discontinued business assessed under the 1918 Act. That benefit, viz., being allowed to substitute the profits from the end of the previous year up to the date of discontinuance for the profits of the previous year, is given because otherwise those assessed under the 1918 Act would be assessed for one year more than the number of years the business was in existence. Since clause 30 provides that whenever there is a succession the predecessor shall be assessed on the previous year's profits it is necessary to give this relief to the predecessor in the case of succession to a business assessed under the 1918 Act.

Sub-section (5) prescribes a period of limitation for claims under sub-sections (3) and (4).

Clause 29 amends section 25A so as to give effect to the principle (given effect to elsewhere, e.g., clause 30) that the assessment on the profits of the previous year should be made on the person who received the profits—in this case the disrupted Hindu Undivided Family.

Clause 30 amends section 26 by giving effect to the principle mentioned in the preceding clause. In cases where a firm has changed its constitution or has been newly constituted or where there has been a succession to a business, profession or vocation except in the case of an unregistered firm (where the partners entitled to the profits get credit for the tax paid) the persons who are entitled to receive the profits are to be assessed on them. Provision is made for assessment on and recovery of tax from the successor in the case where the predecessor cannot be found or where he will not or cannot pay the tax.

Clause 31 omits section 27 which becomes unnecessary owing to the amendment of section 30 allowing an appeal against an assessment under section 23 (4).

Clause 32 makes important changes in section 28—a penalty section—which are designed to give the Income-tax Department more effective means of dealing with illegal evasion. The penalty is increased from the amount of the tax avoided to twice that amount; it is to include super-tax as well as income-tax and it is to be imposable for failure to file a return or to submit accounts or to submit other evidence in support of a return. To prevent hardship in the case of a person with no income liable to tax the penalty is limited to Rs. 50 and in the case of the agent of a non-resident the penalty for failure to file a return can only follow the issue of a specific notice calling for a return. Provision is also made [proviso (c) to sub-section (1)] to prevent an assessee scenting penalty proceedings from avoiding them by the submission of a return.

Clause 33 makes an amendment in section 29 (notice of demand) consequent on the amendment made by clause 53 (b) and provides also for the issue of a notice of demand where the Central Government succeeds before the Privy Council.

Clause 34 extends the scope of section 30 (Appeals). Provision is made for appeal in the following cases:—Assessment under section 23(4); assessment resulting in loss; refusal of refund or full refund under sections 48, 49, 49B or 49C (section 50A then becomes superfluous and is deleted—clause 57). Provision is also made to prevent an assessee questioning an assessment on a firm or an order under section 23A in respect of a Company otherwise than in an appeal against the firm's or the Company's assessment.

Clause 35 amends section 31 (hearing of appeals) so as to give power to the Appellate Assistant Commissioner to admit fresh grounds of appeal and to direct the Income-tax Officer to amend the assessments of partners of firms or members of associations in accordance with the appellate orders in the firm's or association's assessment. It also gives him power to enhance a penalty. The Income-tax Officer is given the right to be represented at the hearing of an appeal. Owing to the institution of separate Appellate Assistant Commissioners it is considered necessary for the Department to be so represented.

Clause 38 deletes section 33A which prescribes the reference to a Board of Referees of an order under section 23A. Owing to the amendment of section 28A (clause 24) it is considered that this section is unnecessary and that the appeal can be heard by the Appellate Assistant Commissioner in the ordinary way.

Clause 39 makes important changes in section 34 which deals with income escaping assessment. The most important change is the extension of the period for making such assessments from one year to six years. This follows the United Kingdom law and in conjunction with compulsory returns (clause 22) and penalties (clause 32) it is expected to be a very effective provision for dealing with illegal evasion. Owing to a recent decision of the Calcutta High Court which narrowly restricts the scope of section 34 it is considered necessary to amend it so as to make it clear that it is applicable where the Income-tax Officer is of opinion that income has escaped assessment. This amendment follows section 22 (2) which has given rise to no difficulty in practice. The section is also amended so as to remove any doubts as to its applicability to cases of under assessment.

At present there is no time limit for the completion of assessment proceedings begun in time. Sub-section (2) provides that they shall be completed within the period of six years from the end of the assessment year.

Clause 40 besides making minor amendments in section 35 (rectification of mistakes) extends the period for rectification from one year to six years.

Clause 42 makes important additions to section 38. It gives the Income-tax Officer or Assistant Commissioner power to call for lists of persons to whom rent, interest, commission or the like in any year amounting to more than two hundred rupees is paid. It gives the Income-tax Officer and the Inspector power to visit premises and make enquiries. This only gives legal sanction to existing practice. It also gives the Income-tax Officer power when visiting such premises to call for accounts and stamp them. The object of this provision is to cope with cases in which false accounts are submitted for assessment or in which at the time of assessment the existence of accounts is denied. For failure to comply with the Income-tax Officer's request a penalty is provided in section 51 (clause 58).

Clause 43 amends section 40 so as to make it clear that an assessment can be made on a non-resident direct instead of on his resident agent. Further, in order to cover all cases, it changes the basis of assessment on the guardian, trustee or agent from assessment on what he receives to assessment on what he is entitled to receive, on the beneficiary's behalf.

Clause 44 makes alterations in section 41 corresponding to the alterations made in section 40 by clause 43. In addition it makes trustees assessable in respect of the trust income and provides for assessment at the maximum rate of income chargeable under the section which is not specifically the income of a beneficiary or where the individual shares in the income are indeterminate or unknown. In other cases the income will be assessed at the rate applicable to the individual beneficiary. Provision is also made for cases where part only of the trust income is chargeable.

Clause 45 amends section 42 which deals with the income of non-residents accruing or arising without British India but deemed to accrue or arise within British India. At present sub-section (1) applies to income accruing or arising through or from any business connection or property in British India. In order to bring within the net of taxation all income arising in a primary sense from British Indian sources, the sub-section has been amended so as to include income accruing or arising "from any asset or source of income in British India or through or from any money lent at interest and brought into British India in cash or in kind."

Sub-section (1) has been also amended so as to make it clear that either the non-resident or his agent may be assessed and so as to allow the agent to retain enough of his principal's moneys to pay the tax.

Sub-section (2) has been amended so as to put a British subject or subject of an Indian State in no worse position than a non-British subject or person who is not a subject of an Indian State.

Sub-section (3), a new provision, narrows the scope of the whole section by confining it to that part of the profits attributable to operations in British India.

Clause 46 expands section 44 so as to include cases of business, profession or vocation discontinued by an association of persons as well as a firm and makes members of such an association liable to assessment on the firm's or association's profits as well as for the tax payable.

Clause 47 remedies a minor defect in section 44C.

Clause 48 introduces a new Chapter dealing with a particular type of evasion.

One of the methods of avoiding the payment of tax without breaking the law is to transfer the assets from which the income arises to a Company which is resident outside British India, and then to receive payments from that Company in a form and in such circumstances that the amounts received from the Company are never in fact repayable or repaid to it. The effect of these arrangements is that the real owner of the assets receives the income therefrom indirectly and in a capital form. These receipts cannot, as the law stands at present, be treated as income in the hands of the recipient, nor, since the Company is a non-resident Company, can it be subjected to the provisions of section 23A which deals with a Company which, to enable its proprietor to avoid super-tax fails to distribute its income.

It is the object of the present clause to prevent the loss of tax through such devices. It will be seen that the first effect of a device of this kind is that the income which in reality is the income of a person liable to pay income-tax or super-tax or both becomes the income of a non-resident person (which term, of course, includes a Company) which is either not liable or liable for only a smaller amount of tax. By means of the loans the real proprietor continues to have power to enjoy the income from the assets.

It is difficult, if not impossible, to draft a simple preventive clause which a skilled lawyer cannot evade. The clause has, therefore, been drafted in wide terms and follows the wording of section 18 of the United Kingdom Finance Act, 1936. Its terms are very comprehensive, and the net effect intended is that wherever income which really belongs to a person liable to income-tax and super-tax becomes by means of an artificial set of transactions the income of somebody liable to pay less tax or no tax at all, such income can for tax purposes be treated as the income of the person to whom it really belongs.

Clause 50 amends section 46(7) to accord with the scheme of the Act which prescribes the financial year as the assessment year.

Clause 51 makes sweeping changes in section 48 which deals with refunds of tax on dividends, of tax paid by registered firms and of tax deducted at source. The section in its reference to rates is unnecessarily cumbrous; it would no longer apply to registered firms whose partners are to be assessed directly (Section 23 (5)—clause 23) and it leaves the position regarding double income-tax relief in doubt. Instead of the main provisions of the section a simple provision has been inserted giving an assessable person (Section 3) a refund of any excess tax paid by him or on his behalf or treated as so paid over the amount with which he was properly chargeable. (As to dividend, see Section 18(5)—clause 18). The amended section does not require any distinction to be made between British and non-British subjects as their rates of tax are dealt with elsewhere (see section 17 (2)—clause 17).

Clause 52 omits section 48A which the amendment of section 48 (clause 51 above) makes superfluous.

Clause 53 amends section 49 which deals with double income-tax relief. The amendments accomplish the following objects:—Relief is restricted to half the Indian rate; the relief granted to the Company is taken into account in computing the refund admissible to the shareholder under section 48; and any excess relief granted to the Company over the relief admissible to the shareholder can be recovered from him.

These are the main objects of the amendments and they are designed to prevent any assessee getting more relief than he is entitled to. The other amendments in the section are only technical improvements on the existing provisions.

Clause 56 amends section 50 which prescribes a period of limitation for claims to refunds. The period is extended from one year to six years in accordance with a similar extension in other sections (Sections 34 and 35).

Clause 57 (the omission of section 50A) follows the amendment of section 30 (clause 34).

Clause 58.—Note on clause 42 may be referred to.

Clause 59.—Note on clause 21 may be referred to. Section 52 is also amended so as to make it clear that action under any relevant section of the Indian Penal Code is open to the Income-tax authorities.

Clause 61 amends section 54 which forbids disclosure of information contained in income-tax proceedings. Certain self-explanatory clauses are added to the existing clauses which permit such disclosure.

Clause 62 amends section 55, the super-tax charging section, by exempting a member of an association of persons from super-tax where the income of the association has been assessed to super-tax. It also takes out of the exemption given to partners of unregistered firms the case (Section 23 (5) (b)—clause 23) of an unregistered firm assessed as a registered firm.

Clause 64.—Section 57 makes the resident partners of a firm responsible for the super-tax on a non-resident's share of profits. The amended section 23 (5) (a) [clause 23 (b)] makes this section superfluous and it is therefore omitted.

Clause 65 makes consequential amendments in section 58 which deals with the application of the provisions of the Act to super-tax.

Clause 67 amends section 58F (Recognised Provident Funds). The limit of exemption is cut down to Rs. 6,000 as in section 15 (clause 15) and in order to simplify the provision regarding the exemption of interest on the employee's accumulated balance it is provided that such interest shall be exempted in so far as it does not exceed one-third of the employee's salary for the year.

Clause 68.—It is the intention to give the benefits of participation in a recognised Provident Fund only to those employees who have rendered continuous service with the employer for at least 5 years. Section 58C (3) is here amended so as to put the employee belonging to a recognised Provident Fund who has not rendered 5 years' service in the same position as he would have been if the fund had not been recognised.

Clause 69 amends section 58K(2) so as to ensure that an employer will not be allowed payments which would be disallowed under section 10 (4) (c) (clause 10 (c)).

Clause 70 amends section 59 (which confers rule making power) as so to remove any doubts as to whether the rules regarding the computation of profits of life insurance business are ultra vires in so far as they vary the substantive provisions of the Act.

Clause 71.—Note on clause 8, Explanation (2), may be referred to.

Clause 72 amends section 61 and is designed to correct abuses in respect of the representation of assessees. The provisions are self-explanatory and they give the assessee a wide field from which to choose his representative. The amended section does not affect existing Income-tax practitioners, however incompetent, so long as they are not guilty of misconduct in connection with income-tax proceedings.

Clause 74 amends section 64 (3) so as to debar the assessee from questioning the place of assessment after the time allowed by notice under section 22 (1) for submitting a return. Assessees frequently obstruct income-tax proceedings by raising questions of jurisdiction and the amendment is designed to check this practice. The sub-section is also amended so as to make it clear that the Income-tax Officer has to refer to the Commissioner before assessment a question regarding the place of assessment.

Clause 75 amends section 66 so as to allow the High Court in cases of appeal to the Privy Council, where a refund of the tax to the assessee who has succeeded before the High Court is inadvisable, to authorise the Commissioner to withhold the refund. If the assessee succeeds before the Privy Council he will get the refund with interest.

READ—

The reports of the Commissioners of Divisions on the working of district and local boards in Bengal during the year 1936-37.

1. District Boards.—Of the 26 district boards in the Presidency, six viz., Hooghly, Murshidabad, Khulna, Faridpur, Tippera and Noakhali were reconstituted during the year under review. The reconstitution of the 24-Parganas district board was due in November 1936. But as section 7 of the Bengal Local Self-Government (Amendment) Act was brought into force in the district of 24-Parganas, the term of office of the members of the district board was automatically extended by one year. The total number of members was 697, of whom 449 were elected and 248 appointed. The appointed members consisted of 101 officials and 147 non-officials.

With the exception of the district board of Darjeeling, which continued to be presided over by an official Chairman appointed by Government, and of Midnapore and Bankura where it was still considered necessary to appoint an official Chairman, all the boards elected their own Chairman.

All the district boards, with the exception of Mymensingh, Chittagong and Darjeeling, held at least one meeting every month. The total number of meetings held by all the boards fell from 404 to 376, of which 22 were adjourned meetings. One proved abortive for want of a quorum. The highest percentages of attendance were attained in Faridpur (94·11), Khulna (88·2), Dinajpur (87·16), Hooghly (87), Noakhali (85·33), Bankura (85·2); and the lowest in Murshidabad (60·8), Jalpaiguri (65·18), Rajshahi (70·3) and Jessore (70·51). The percentages of attendance of official members were highest in Hooghly (97), Bankura (89·7), Burdwan (83·33), 24-Parganas (82·8) and Faridpur (82·35); and lowest in Nadia (16·5), Tippera (46·25), Jalpaiguri (51·79), Jessore (52·30) and Bogra (53·33).

2. Local Boards.—The number of local boards was 84 as in the previous year; and all of them, with the exception of four, were presided over by non-official Chairmen. The total number of members was 1,386, consisting of 80 officials, 419 appointed non-officials and 887 elected members.

With the growth and expansion, throughout the province, of union boards to which many of the functions of rural self-government have been transferred under the Village Self-Government Act, the local boards have lost their importance in the scheme of local self-government. Government have, therefore, in the exercise of the power vested in them by the Local Self-Government (Amendment) Act, 1936, adopted a policy of gradual abolition of local boards with the consent of the district boards concerned.

3. Union Committees.—The total number of union committees in the province was reduced from 12 in the preceding year to 4 only in the year under review; 3 of these viz., Hazipore, Mograhat and Mollarchak, being in the district of 24-Parganas and the fourth, viz., Takdah, in the district of Darjeeling. Only two of these, however, viz., Hazipore and Takdah, actually functioned during the year, and each of them received a contribution from the district board concerned.

4. Financial features.—The total receipts during the year, excluding the opening balances, amounted to Rs. 188·75 lakhs, representing a net increase of Rs. 7 lakhs over the preceding year's receipts, in spite of a decrease under "Interest" from Rs. 2·86 lakhs to Rs. 2·34 lakhs, under "Local rates" from Rs. 95·82 lakhs to Rs. 95·16 lakhs, under "Police" from Rs. 1·32 lakhs to Rs. 1·16 lakhs, under "Education" from Rs. 13·23 lakhs to Rs. 11·71 lakhs, under "Medical" from Rs. 17·76 lakhs to Rs. 16·75 lakhs and under "Scientific and other minor departments" from Rs. 38,695 to Rs. 31,037. The increase in the total receipts was due to an increase under "Land revenue" from Rs. 28,057 to Rs. 58,122, under "Miscellaneous" from Rs. 4·81 lakhs to Rs. 6·64 lakhs, under "Civil Works" from Rs. 24·80 lakhs to Rs. 25·18 lakhs and under "Debt" from Rs. 19·06 lakhs to Rs. 27·61 lakhs.

The total expenditure chargeable to current income rose from Rs. 159·73 lakhs to Rs. 168·01 lakhs, representing an increase of approximately Rs. 8 lakhs over the previous year's figure. A noticeable feature was the increase of expenditure under the head "Famine relief" from Rs. 2·85 lakhs to Rs. 8·16 lakhs. There was also a rise in expenditure under "Interest" from Rs. 41,470 to Rs. 44,401, under "Administration" from Rs. 7·42 lakhs to Rs. 7·48 lakhs, under "Ports and pilotage" from Rs 4,823 to Rs. 5,500, under "Medical" from Rs. 39·54 lakhs to Rs. 40 96 lakhs, under "Scientific and other minor departments" from Rs. 2·57 lakhs to Rs. 2·69 lakhs and under "Civil Works" from Rs. 70·85 lakhs to Rs. 73·34 lakhs. There was a decrease in expenditure under "Police" from Rs. 13,922 to Rs. 9,966, under "Education" from Rs. 30·21 lakhs to Rs. 29·33 lakhs, under "Stationery and printing" from Rs. 57,801 to Rs. 43,197 and under "Miscellaneous" from Rs. 2·28 lakhs to Rs. 2·22 lakhs. The credit balance at the close of the year was 63·67 lakhs as against Rs. 61·04 lakhs in the preceding year.

5. Education.—The income and expenditure under this head amounted to Rs. 11·71 lakhs and Rs. 29·33 lakhs against Rs. 13·23 lakhs and Rs. 30·21 lakhs respectively, in the preceding year. The fall in income under this head was due to the transfer of the Government grant for primary education in 11 districts to the District School Boards consequent on the latter's taking over the control and management of primary education.

The number of primary schools maintained or aided by district boards was 28,940, with 1,134,681 pupils, of whom 259,981 were girls. The decrease in the number of institutions and students as compared with the preceding year's figures was due to the transfer, alluded to above, of the control of primary education in 11 districts to the District School Boards. The total expenditure of district boards on primary education, including the amount spent out of their own funds, was Rs. 16,81,372 against Rs. 21,55,142 in the preceding year.

The total number of middle English schools maintained and aided by district boards was 43 and 1,275 respectively, with a total number of 116,876 pupils. No high English school was maintained by any district board, but 11 such schools, with a total number of 2,525 pupils, received financial assistance from them.

The district boards continued to maintain or aid, by stipends or otherwise, the existing technical and industrial schools. The enterprise of the Burdwan, Khulna and Mymensingh district boards in maintaining technical schools at a cost of Rs. 7,651, Rs. 11,777 and Rs. 25,496, respectively, deserves special mention. Many district boards rendered substantial aid to muktabs and tôls.

6. Public Health and Medical Relief.—Almost all districts in the province recorded progress in the matter of medical relief. The total outlay under the head "Medical," which included sanitation and vaccination as a sub-head, amounted to Rs. 40·96 lakhs, showing an excess of Rs. 1·42 lakhs over the expenditure of the preceding year. An amount of Rs. 1·1 lakhs out of this excess represents the increase in expenditure under the sub-head "Hospitals and Dispensaries."

The annual grants given by Government to village and thana dispensaries helped to increase the number of such institutions and were effective in promoting the ideal of the establishment of one dispensary for each thana.

The total number of dispensaries maintained or aided by the district boards, including a number of homeopathic and a few Ayurvedic and Unani dispensaries, was 1,173, including 76 added during the year under review.

The scheme for the establishment of a small dispensary for each union board or group of union boards elicited popular enthusiasm. A share of the Central grant for rural uplift was utilised to meet the non-recurring expenditure towards the establishment of simple dispensaries of this type on the condition that the recurring expenditure would be guaranteed from local sources.

The scheme of conversion of the hospital attached to the Jackson Medical School, Jalpaiguri, into a first class modern hospital with financial assistance from the various district boards in the division and the tea interest in the district was completed during the year.

The public health activities of the district boards consisted, as usual, in combating the outbreak of epidemic diseases by preventive and curative measures. The education of public opinion in the villages in the general principles of sanitation and hygiene by lantern lectures, health talks, health exhibitions, baby shows and cinematograph shows formed an important feature of the activities of the health staff of almost all the boards. In several districts, school hygiene work was taken up by the sanitary staff. School boys were medically examined and instruction was given where necessary.

Murshidabad and Malda continued to be in the grip of small-pox during the year under report. In Dacca and Pabna the outbreak of small-pox synchronised with an epidemic of cholera which raged for a considerable time. Prompt arrangements were made to combat the epidemics. Temporary regulations under the Epidemic Diseases Act were promulgated; the permanent health staffs of the district boards were augmented by a large temporary staff, part of it being drafted by Government officers of the Public Health Department who visited the affected areas and guided the campaign. In spite of all efforts, however, there was serious loss of life before the epidemics could be completely controlled. Severe outbreaks of cholera and small-pox occurred in Bakarganj, Burdwan and Howrah. Small-pox also made its appearance in the districts of Birbhum, Rajshahi and Bogra, while cholera prevailed in the districts of Faridpur, Noakhali and part of Rangpur. It is reported that the health staffs of the district boards were able to control these epidemics by taking prompt and adequate measures, both curative and preventive.

The campaign against malaria and kala-azar, the two major scourges in most districts in Bengal, was carried on with unabated vigour by the district boards, Government making the usual subventions. The Anti-Malaria Societies were of considerable assistance. While the eradication of malaria, constitutes a vast and intricate problem, kala-azar is comparatively easy to control; and adequate provision of facilities for treatment in the affected areas has been generally followed by marked decline of the disease, although a relaxation of such effort in certain areas has resulted in a setback.

Treatment centres for kala-azar were maintained by almost all district boards in the areas affected by the disease. As usual, kala-azar was specially prevalent in the district of Rangpur which borders on the province of Assam. In that district 3 new centres were added to the 53 centres of the previous year. In the adjoining district of Bogra, 10 special treatment centres and 11 subsidised centres were maintained during the year. In both these districts, however, the disease appeared to be on the increase, indicating that the measures taken had proved inadequate. The Dacca district board maintained 16 kala-azar centres and the anti-kala-azar work was greatly appreciated by the people.

Anti-malarial work undertaken by the various district boards consisted, as usual of free distribution of quinine, deputation of doctors to the affected areas for giving treatment and advice and filling up of insanitary tanks and ditches and treating them with kerosine, cutting down jungles and carrying out anti-pistia work. Travelling fever dispensaries were opened where necessary. Some district boards also subsidised local medical men for giving free treatment.

The experiment to control malaria by the administration of plasmochin and quinine inaugurated in 1933-34 within a highly malarial tract in Memari thana in the district of Burdwan was continued during the year under review and is reported to have been attended with considerable success.

The scheme of prophylactic quinisation by free distribution of quinine through union boards in 5 selected thanas in West Bengal, also financed with a special Government grant, met with a fair measure of success.

Several district boards, viz., Bankura, Midnapore, Birbhum, Howrah, Dinajpur, Rangpur and Bogra, continued to maintain centres for the specialised treatment of leprosy, while certain other boards contributed towards maintenance of leprosy clinics.

The scheme of decentralised anti-rabic treatment continued to work satisfactorily.

The district boards paid increased attention to the prevention of adulteration of food stuffs, but it cannot be said that an appreciable impression has yet been made on the vicious practice of adulteration which is still rampant.

7. Veterinary charges.—There was a slight increase in the income and expenditure under this head which, during the year under review, stood at Rs. 3,065 and Rs. 1,90,822 as against Rs. 2,791 and Rs. 1,83,922 respectively in the previous year.

Several district boards in the Burdwan Division, viz., Birbhum, Bankura, Midnapore and Howrah, and almost all the district boards of the Rajshahi Division maintained stud bulls. One hundred and twenty-four stud bulls were supplied by the Malda district board up to the beginning of the year under review. The district board appointed an officer to look after the bulls and to carry on propaganda to impress upon the people the necessity and utility of the improvement of their live-stock.

Several district boards maintained veterinary dispensaries and hospitals. In the course of their tours the Itinerant Veterinary Assistant Surgeons imparted instruction for the control of the spread of contagious cattle diseases and for the increase and improvement of fodder cultivation. Some of them carried on propaganda with the help of magic lanterns. In Darjeeling the veterinary work was carried on with good results in close cooperation with the Darjeeling Himalayan Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

Cattle epidemics broke out in several districts. The veterinary staff promptly attended to the cases and prevented the spread of the epidemics. There was a widespread outbreak of anthrax in two places in the Dacca district. It was, however, brought under control after two months of intensive inoculation.

8. Civil Works.—The income under this head rose from Rs. 24·80 lakhs to Rs. 25·18 lakhs. There was also a corresponding increase in expenditure from Rs. 70·85 lakhs to Rs. 73·33 lakhs. As in the preceding year, a substantial portion of this expenditure was on "Communications," viz., Rs. 45·32 lakhs against Rs. 44·44 lakhs in the previous year. This indicates that largely assisted by grants from the Motor Vehicles Tax Fund and, in certain instances, from the provincial share of the Road Account, the district boards have been able to undertake new programme for road construction and improvement of existing roads. The actual expenditure incurred by district boards, during the year under review on "Original Works" was Rs. 15·76 lakhs against Rs. 14·56 lakhs and on "Repairs" Rs. 29·56 lakhs against Rs. 29·87 lakhs in the previous year.

The expenditure on "Civil Works" in the Burdwan Division amounted to Rs. 15·38 lakhs against Rs. 14·25 lakhs in the preceding year, representing 34·4 per cent. of the total expenditure. The increase was shared by all the districts except Howrah, and was due mainly to the special Government allotments from the Motor Vehicles Tax.

In the Presidency Division the expenditure on "Civil Works" fell from Rs. 16·62 lakhs to Rs. 15·16 lakhs, and the decrease was shared by all the districts except Murshidabad. In Nadia only about half the programme of Civil Works was carried out. This was mainly due to floods in the district.

The expenditure on "Civil Works" in the Dacca Division increased from Rs. 15·64 lakhs to Rs. 17·90 lakhs. There was an increase of Rs. 1·43 lakhs in the Dacca district alone owing to heavy expenditure on the Dacca Narainganj Road under the Road Fund Scheme.

The total expenditure on "Civil Works" in the Chittagong Division was Rs. 6·03 lakhs against Rs. 6·39 lakhs in the previous year.

The total expenditure on "Civil Works" in the Rajshahi Division rose from Rs. 17·94 lakhs to Rs. 18·84 lakhs. The district boards of Rajshahi, Jalpaiguri, Pabna and Darjeeling shared in this increase, while decrease occurred in the remaining districts of the Division. The decrease, which was most marked in Rangpur (Rs. 91,245), is accounted for by the fact that heavier allotments had been made in the previous year out of the large opening balances available in that year. The system of having repairs of roads and bridges as well as new works carried out through honorary contractors under the supervision of the District Engineer was continued by the Darjeeling district board with satisfactory results.

9. Water Supply.—A total sum of Rs. 9·41 lakhs was spent under this head during the year under review, as compared with Rs. 8·03 lakhs in the preceding year.

The total expenditure on water-supply in the Burdwan Division rose from Rs. 2,12,035 to Rs. 2,22,149 of which Rs. 1,85,963 was spent on original works and Rs. 36,186 on repairs. The expenditure on original works increased in the districts of Birbhum, Bankura, Midnapore and Howrah, while it fell in the remaining districts. The Burdwan district board spent a sum of Rs. 36,791 against Rs. 44,524 in the preceding year, on the excavation of 21 masonry wells and the re-excavation of 17 old wells. In Birbhum, the expenditure on water-supply amounted to Rs. 43,949 against Rs. 40,561 of the previous year. 50 tube-wells, 21 masonry wells and 41 cement ring wells were completed by the district board. In Midnapore the total expenditure on water-works was Rs. 71,918 against Rs. 62,530 in the previous year. Eight experimental wells with casing, 131 tube-wells, 27 masonry wells and 5 pottery wells were the total output of the year in this district. In Hooghly the problem of drinking water-supply is reported to have been solved to an appreciable extent. The Commissioner observes that there is now hardly any village in the district without at least one efficient tube-well. In Howrah, the total expenditure on water-supply was Rs. 14,599 against Rs. 12,655 in the preceding year. This amount was spent on the construction of 56 tube-wells and 4 ring wells and the re-excavation of 8 tanks.

In the Presidency Division there was an increase of Rs. 43,246 in the disbursement under this head. The expenditure on original works increased in the districts of the 24-Parganas, Murshidabad and Khulna owing to the sinking of a large number of tube-wells, while it declined in the district of Nadia and Jessore. Two hundred and forty-one tube-wells were completed in the Murshidabad district. Khulna constructed even a larger number of tube-wells, viz., 436. Eighteen tanks were also excavated and four tanks were improved during the year under review. The district board of Khulna also contributed a sum of Rs. 2,000 towards the Bagerhat Water-supply Scheme and gave Rs. 4,000 to the Khulna municipality for waterworks.

In the Dacca Division the total expenditure on water-supply increased from

Rs. 2,67,041 to Rs. 3,22,579. Of the total outlay, Rs. 2,80,062 was on account of "Original works" and Rs. 42,517 for "Repairs." The expenditure on "Original works" increased in all the districts except Dacca, where there was a decrease of Rs. 9,871. The Mymensingh district board constructed 827 tube-wells and 258 masonry and ferro-concrete wells and excavated 2 tanks. The district board of Bakarganj completed the excavation of four tanks taken up in the preceding year and spent a sum of Rs. 11,550 towards excavation of 67 tanks in the various subdivisions, including 49 in the Patuakhali subdivision. Altogether there were 368 reserved tanks under this Board's direct control, while 222 new tanks were excavated by the colonization and Khas Mahal Department or by union boards with the assistance of contributions from the district board.

The total expenditure on waterworks in the Chittagong Division amounted to Rs. 42,600 against Rs. 38,900 in the preceding year. The district boards of Chittagong and Noakhali spent only Rs. 4,004 and Rs. 1,299 respectively, while the district board of Tippera incurred an expenditure of Rs. 37,297 under this head during the year. Of this amount Rs. 33,012 represented the cost of sinking 247 tube-wells, resinking of 28 tube-wells and construction of pucca platforms of 190 tube-wells. One hundred and ninety-three tanks were excavated or re-excavated by the Tippera district board up to the end of 1936-37. The total number of tube-wells sunk by this board up to the end of 1936-37 was 750. In Chittagong a sum of Rs. 4,004 was spent by the board on re-excavation of tanks and sinking of tube-wells in rural areas.

In the Rajshahi Division the total outlay on waterworks rose from Rs. 1,27,561 to Rs. 1,53,589. In Rajshahi 4 reinforced concrete ring wells, 19 tube-wells and one tank were completed and the construction of one masonry well and 25 tube-wells was in progress at the close of the year. In Dinajpur 16 ring wells and 3 tube-wells were constructed with grants from the District Fund; and 60 cement concrete ring wells and 19 tube-wells were constructed with the Government of India's rural development grant under the supervision of the district board. The district board of Rangpur constructed one tube-well, 13 masonry wells, 43 cement concrete ring wells and one country ring well during the year. Fifty tube-wells, 40 double ring wells and 5 cement concrete wells were also constructed with the Government of India's rural uplift grant. In addition to the above, the district board spent Rs. 15,000 on water-supply and drainage through the union boards. In Bogra 324 tube-wells were sunk during the year. The Commissioner has pointed out that while the water-supply scheme adopted by this Board was satisfactory and while a very large number of new tube-wells was being sunk every year, the arrangements for their maintenance were still inadequate. In Pabna 72 tube-wells, 77 masonry wells, and 161 ring wells were completed during the year and about 200 masonry wells were under construction. The Malda District Board prepared a scheme of water-supply and Government have recently approved of a loan of Rs. 47,000 towards financing it.

10. General Remarks. -The Minister has read with great interest the reports of the Commissioners of Divisions and has noted with satisfaction the progress recorded during the year in several directions in the sphere of Local Self-Government. Much useful work has been done in spite of the handicap of inelastic resources, and the increasing calls on the District fund. As in the preceding year, several district boards were faced with widespread scarcity bordering in some cases on famine and the Commissioners have paid well deserved tribute to the district boards concerned for having taken prompt and adequate measures for relief of distress in willing co-operation with local officers and voluntary workers.

The constitution of district school boards in a number of districts and the transfer of charge of primary education by the district boards to these bodies was a noticeable feature of the year.

The question of the provision of a system of adequate supply of pure drinking water appears to have received increased attention from the local authorities. The Central grant for rural uplift, a considerable portion of which was allotted towards the augmentation of sources of water-supply, proved of great benefit to the rural public. The solution of the problem of rural water-supply is, however, still far from satisfactory, and the Ministry trusts that the interest which the local bodies have evinced in the matter will be sustained in future.

The rural public health organisation maintained with the usual contributions from Government continued to do valuable work in controlling epidemics and in carrying on a moderate amount of educative propaganda. It is realised, however, that any startling results towards improvement of public health cannot be expected from this inadequate agency. A scheme for the provision of a more comprehensive and adequate rural health organisation for the entire province is now receiving the active consideration of the Ministry.

The Minister regrets to have to note that while the district boards displayed commendable energy and zeal in the sphere of rural improvement, there was little or no improvement noticeable in that of financial administration, and irregularities, some of which amounted to grave abuse of responsibilities, continued to recur during the year under review. Some of the Divisional Commissioners have been constrained to suggest the adoption of some form of financial control over transactions in respect of the District Funds which would be more effective than the present method of control through periodical audit, under which the comments made in audit go unheeded year after year. The Minister trusts that in the interest of the efficient administration of Local Self-Government the defects and irregularities revealed in the audit reports will not be allowed to recur in future.

Resolution reviewing the Reports on the working of Municipalities in Bengal during 1936-37.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

Department of Public Health and Local Self-Government.

Municipal.

CALCUTTA, THE 17TH JUNE 1938.

RESOLUTION No. 1854M.

READ—

Reports of the Commissioners of Divisions on the working of municipalities in the Bengal Presidency (except Calcutta) during the year 1936-37.

1. Number of municipalities.—As in the previous year, the total number of municipalities in the Presidency (excluding the Calcutta Corporation) was 118. The name of the Joynagar municipality in the district of the 24-Parganas was changed to Joynagar-Majilpur. The provisions of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, were brought into force in the two hill municipalities of Darjeeling and Kurseong from the beginning of the year under review. The boundaries of five municipalities, viz., Burdwan, Bansberia, Bankura, Baruipur and Joynagar-Majilpore, were revised and proposals for the revision of the boundaries of a few others were under consideration.

2. Elections.—The Garden Reach municipality, which had been administered by appointed commissioners for the first two years after its separation from the Corporation of Calcutta, had its first general election under the Bengal Municipal Act of 1932 during the year under review. General elections were held in 25 municipalities. Most of them were contested. The ratepayers took a keen interest in the proceedings and in some cases more than 80 per cent. of the voters attended the poll. An interesting feature of the year was the keenness shown by female voters in exercising their franchise in some of these elections. In one ward of the Naihati municipality more than 83 per cent. of women ratepayers exercised the franchise; the attendance of women voters at the poll was 100 per cent. in one ward of the small town of Gaibandha, and exceeded 90 per cent. in some of the wards of the municipalities of Nator, English Bazar and Nawabganj.

3. Meetings.—Out of 2,957 meetings held during the year, 115 proved abortive for want of a quorum and 265 meetings were adjourned, against 76 and 274, respectively, during the preceding year. The Hooghly-Chinsurah municipality again held the largest number of meetings, viz., 61, but no fewer than 29 of these had to be adjourned. The credit for the best record for the year goes to the Garden Reach municipality which held 55 meetings of which none failed for want of a quorum and only one had to be adjourned. On the other hand, the commissioners of the Moheshpur, Murshidabad and Kanchrapara municipalities failed to meet even once a month, and the commissioners of the Rajpur municipality in the district of the 24-Parganas met only seven times before they were superseded under section 553 of the Bengal Municipal Act towards the end of the year.

The attendance of commissioners was on the whole fair. The highest percentage of attendance (85·5) was reached in the Kotechandpur municipality and the lowest (31·8) in Howrah.

4. Ratepayers.—The number of ratepayers increased from 360,377 to 373,954 and the ratio of ratepayers to the total urban population averaged nearly 16 per cent. in the Presidency as a whole. It varied from 49·9 per cent. in Baraset to 3·3 per cent. in Bhatpara, a mill town with a floating population of labourers who pay no rates themselves. Other towns in which rates were paid by less than one-tenth of the population were Mymensingh, the mill municipalities of Champdany, Bhadreswar, Kamarhati, Naihati, Halisahar, Garulia and Titagarh and the hill stations of Darjeeling and Kurseong.

5. Rates and taxes.—The average incidence of taxation per head of population showed a slow but steady increase. It was Rs. 3-3 9 in the year 1934-35, Rs. 3-4-6 in 1935-36 and Rs. 3-5 in the year under review. The incidence of income showed the same upward tendency, the figures being Rs. 3-14-5, Rs. 3-15-2, and Rs. 4-1-4, respectively, for the three years mentioned above. The maximum divisional average incidence of taxation was Rs. 4-5-8 in the Burdwan Division, the Rajshahi Division coming next with Rs. 3-10. A more accurate idea of the incidence of taxation can be gained by considering the amount paid by the actual ratepayers who comprise abount one-sixth of the municipal population. On this basis of calculation, the incidence comes to about Rs. 20 13-4 per ratepayer for the whole Presidency. The variation in individual towns was, however, great; the ratepayers in Darjeeling, for instance, paying Rs. 175 per head, while those in the petty rural towns paid on an average about Rs. 2 each. Generally speaking, the incidence of municipal taxation in the Presidency is still very low and any striking improvement in municipal services and amenities cannot be expected until the popular aversion to higher local taxation is overcome and the existing resources of municipal bodies are substantially augmented.

General or partial revision of assessment made in a number of municipalities resulted in an increase of Rs. 3,81,966 in the municipal demand of the Presidency as a whole. In Howrah, a net increase of Rs. 54,572 resulted from the imposition of a consolidated rate of 18 per cent. under the provisions of the Calcutta Municipal Act as extended to that municipality. The South Suburban and Budge Budge municipalities secured an increase of Rs. 47,244 and Rs. 32,002, respectively. The largest increase, viz., Rs. 1,22,508 occurred in Dacca where the general revaluation took effect during the year under report. The Garden Reach municipality, on the other hand, suffered a decrease of Rs. 38,382 owing to the adoption of a rate of 15 per cent. under section 135 of the Bengal Municipal Act in place of the consolidated rate of 19½ per cent. which had been in force in the municipality during the preceding year.

6. Collections.—The total collections rose from Rs. 73,38,135 to Rs. 74,66,136 or by 3·9 lakhs above the figure recorded in 1934 35. This increase however, was more apparent than real, in as much as the rate of collection, instead of keeping pace with the growth of the demand, showed a decided tendency towards falling off. The percentage of the total collections on the total demand fell from 67 to 65·4, while the percentage of the current collections on the current demand and of the arrear collections on the arrear demand fell from 77·8 to 75·8 and from 37·1 to 36·2, respectively. The result was that the arrears outstanding at the close of the year mounted to Rs. 32·8 lakhs against Rs. 30·2 lakhs in the preceding year in spite of an increase in the amount of total remissions which rose from Rs. 6·17 lakhs to Rs. 6·57 lakhs, representing 5·7 per cent. of the total demand as compared with 5·6 per cent. in the preceding year.

The Garulia municipality established a commendable record by collecting its entire demand for the sixth year in succession. Its example was closely emulated by Bhadreswar and Nalchiti which collected 99·4 and 98·5 per cent., respectively, of their total demands. In 9 municipalities, on the other hand, collections fell below 50 per cent. of the total demand. Taki in 24-Parganas collected only 37 per cent. while Rajpur in the same district collected only 7·6 per cent. The meagre collection in Rajpur was due to the complete breakdown in the administration owing to internal feuds and party factions among the municipal commissioners. Thirty seven municipalities, however, collected more than 80 per cent. of their total demand, and in thirteen of them collections exceeded 90 per cent.

The Howrah municipality again granted the largest remissions amounting to Rs. 1,90,600, of which Rs. 91,502 was on account of vacant holdings. It had also the heaviest outstanding balance, viz., Rs. 12,80,892. The special attention of the municipal commissioners was drawn in the last resolution to the exceptionally heavy outstandings which had become almost a chronic feature of this municipality; but nothing appears to have been done to improve the position. Other municipalities with heavy outstanding balances were Dacca (Rs. 1,76,880), Mymensingh (Rs. 1,15,202), Garden Reach (Rs. 1,13,905), Hooghly-Chinsurah (Rs. 1,06,892), Tollygunge (Rs. 83,030) and the South Suburban (Rs. 74,673). The large outstandings in Garden Reach, Tollygunge and the South Suburban are mainly ascribed to a large number of appeals against the general revision of assessment, but no explanations have been furnished for the exceptionally heavy arrears in Dacca, Mymensingh and Hooghly-Chinsurah.

7. Income and Expenditure and closing balance.—The total receipts including opening balances fell from Rs. 127·5 lakhs to Rs. 125·8 lakhs, the decrease under the heads "Opening Balance" and "Extraordinary and Debt" more than counterbalancing the increase in the receipts from taxation and grants and contributions. The total municipal expenditure, however, remained practically stationary at about Rs. 108·1 lakhs.

The total closing balance at the end of the year amounted to Rs. 17·8 lakhs against Rs. 19·5 lakhs in the preceding year, the largest balance (Rs. 2,39,524) for which no explanation has been furnished, being held by Darjeeling. Other municipalities with noticeably large closing balances were Dacca (Rs. 2,08,243), Howrah (Rs 1,33,895), Budge-Budge (Rs. 64,493), Garden Reach (Rs. 63,303), Baranagore (Rs. 57,981), Jalpaiguri (Rs. 43,850), Bhatpara (Rs. 42,163) and Kanchrapara (Rs. 40,261) The greater portion of the balances held by Baranagar and Kanchrapara was earmarked for their respective water-supply schemes, while the balances shown against Budge-Budge, Garden Reach and Bhatpara were in reality funds set apart for the general improvement of the towns. Several municipalities, on the other hand, failed to keep adequate working balances, and in the case of no fewer than 36 municipalities the balances were quite insufficient to meet outstanding liabilities.

8. Education.—The amount spent on education, including the Government grant of Rs. 1·48 lakhs, was Rs 6·72 lakhs or about 7 per cent. of the municipal income as against 7·12 per cent in the preceding year. The expenditure on primary education rose from Rs. 4,56,889 to Rs. 4,74,491 and it is satisfactory to note that only 9 municipalities, as against 13 in the preceding year, failed to spend on primary education 3·2 per cent. of their ordinary income which is the minimum percentage required to be spent for the education of half the number of boys of primary school-going age in a town. The percentage was, however, above 6 in 61 municipalities and above 10 in 27, the highest ratio being reached in the Chittagong municipality which devoted 38·4 per cent. of its ordinary income to primary education.

The Kurseong municipality formulated a scheme for the regular medical examination of school children and for the supply of additional nutrition to defective children at its own cost. The work was started with the help of a part-time school medical officer employed by the municipality. Government trust that this example will be emulated by other municipal bodies and that school hygiene will receive more adequate attention from them than it has received in the past. The Kurseong municipality also opened an industrial school. As in the previous years, the commissioners of the Chittagong municipality evinced a keen interest in the spread of primary education, although the administration of some of the primary schools is reported to have been far from satisfactory Among other municipalities which took considerable interest in the spread of education generally and of primary education in particular, were Madaripur, Garden Reach, South Suburban, Bhatpara, Bhadreswar, Burdwan, Asansol and Howrah.

The total municipal expenditure on education represented 4·5 annas per head of urban population and that on primary education 3·2 annas, as compared with 4·5 annas and 3 1 annas, rspectively, in the preceding year. The per capita expenditure on primary education from municipal funds alone averaged 2·2 annas against 2·1 annas in 1935-36.

9 Water-supply.—The total expenditure on water-supply rose from Rs. 9·82 lakhs in 1935-36 to Rs. 12·87 lakhs during the year under review. The increase, which was shared more or less by all the Divisions was most marked (viz., Rs. 83,778) in the Burdwan Division owing mainly to increased expenditure on water-supply by the municipalities in the Howrah, Bankura and Midnapore districts. The municipalities of the Dacca Division accounted for an increase of Rs. 68,391, of which Dacca alone was responsible for Rs. 42,702 and Barisal for Rs. 16,030; while the municipalities of the Presidency and Rajshahi Divisions increased their expenditure on water-supply by Rs. 29,287 and Rs. 28,375, respectively.

The total number of waterworks in operation in municipalities was 48. The approximate number of persons served was 1,296,916 and the average quantity supplied was 16,404,902 gallons per day. It is a satisfactory feature of the year under review that, although financial stringency prevented Government from making the usual grants from provincial revenues towards the cost of water-supply projects, the municipal boards as a whole were able to devote greater attention to the problems of water-supply in their areas and several municipalities financed such projects with the help of loans and local contributions.

The first part of the independent water-supply scheme of the Serampore municipality was completed and administrative approval of Government was accorded to the scheme for completion of the water-supply extension project of the municipality at an estimated cost of Rs. 75,000 The detailed scheme of the Hooghly-Chinsura municipality for the extension of its water-supply at an estimated cost of Rs. 1,33,000 was also sanctioned by Government. The joint water-supply scheme of the Baranagore and Kamarhati municipalities was approved by Government and the work was in progress The water-supply project of the Garden Reach municipality received administrative approval during the year The separate water-supply scheme for the non-railway area of the Kanchrapara municipality, however, made no progress as the municipal commissioners could not come to a decision in regard to the question of taking a loan Dacca took up a scheme for the erection of an overhead tank and the sinking of a tube-well at an estimated cost of about Rs. 60,000. The first part of the waterworks improvement scheme at Mymensingh was almost completed and the municipality laid out a further sum of Rs 60,000 for the completion of the second part. The Bhola municipality formulated a scheme for the construction of waterworks at a cost of Rs. 40,000 Chittagong submitted a project for remodelling the waterworks at a total estimated cost of Rs. 3,99,000. A sketch project for the improvement of water-supply at Comilla at an estimated cost of Rs. 34,000 was approved by Government. The first and second sections of the water-supply scheme of the Rajshahi municipality almost reached completion. Sanction of Government was accorded to a loan of Rs. 35,000 asked for by the municipal commissioners in connection with the project and the third section of the scheme, which was estimated to cost Rs. 93,000 to be met partly from donations (Rs. 62,000) and partly from the usual one-third grant from Government (Rs. 31,000), was also administratively approved. The project for extension of water-supply at Nator and the water-supply scheme for Pabna made no progress. Bogra drew up a scheme of water-supply estimated to cost Rs. 56,000 The Darjeeling municipality had under consideration a large scheme of improvement for the removal of the shortage of water-supply in the town.

Minor schemes for improvement of water-supply were carried out in several municipalities.

Several smaller municipal towns sank a large number of tube-wells to improve the supply of drinking water, their resources being insufficient for undertaking expensive schemes of piped water-supply. Some of the larger municipalities also adopted this plan to supplement the supply from their waterworks and to provide drinking water for outlying areas.

10. Conservancy.—The conservancy charges, which rose slightly from Rs. 24·23 lakhs to Rs. 24·38 lakhs, were about Rs. 7½ lakhs in excess of the receipts from the conservancy rate, the deficit being met, as usual, by contribution from the general fund. Government regret to note that in spite of repeated exhortations by the local officers, most of the municipal authorities do not appear to have realised the necessity for making this special rate fund self-supporting so as to prevent the continuous drain on the general fund which involves the sacrifice of other important services. Several municipalities, notable among them being Bogra, Serajganj and Jalpaiguri, increased the conservancy rate while the Kurseong municipality reduced the rate from 3 per cent.

to 2 per cent. owing to the large credit balance in its conservancy fund. The Kurseong municipality built sweepers' barracks on the site of the segregation shed after removing the latter outside the town. The incinerator constructed by the municipality worked satisfactorily.

11. Drainage.—The total expenditure on drainage fell from Rs. 3,89,349 to Rs. 3,68,388. Drainage became an urgent problem in many municipalities, e.g., Pabna, English Bazar and Comilla, but financial difficulties stood in the way of their undertaking complete and effective schemes. The detailed sewerage scheme of the Asansol municipality was sanctioned by Government at an estimated cost of Rs. 1,43,000. A revised scheme for improving the drainage at Dinajpore was under preparation, but the drainage schemes of the Nabadwip and Rajshahi municipalities made little progress on account of difficulties in solving the financial questions involved.

12. Lighting.—The total outlay under this head fell from Rs. 8·08 lakhs to Rs. 7·20 lakhs, the decrease being most marked (Rs. 87,000) in the Rajshahi Division owing to decrease in expenditure on lighting in the Darjeeling municipality. Although the total receipts from the lighting rate rose from Rs. 1·66 lakhs to Rs. 1·79 lakhs, the expenditure incurred by most of the municipalities was considerably in excess of their income under this head.

A fairly large number of the municipal towns in the Presidency continued to be lit with electricity supplied by the local Electric Supply Companies. A partial scheme for the introduction of electric lights in some of the main streets of the Baidyabati municipality was under preparation and the municipal commissioners of Nator also took up the question of electrification of the town. The installation of electric lights in the municipalities of Pabna and Serajganj removed a long-felt want, while the inauguration of a system of electric supply at Faridpur resulted in a notable addition to the amenities of the town. The scheme for the supply of electric energy to the town of English Bazar also made fair progress. Darjeeling is the only municipality in the province to hold its own license for electric supply. The recent change-over from the single-phase system to a three-phase system having proved inadequate, particularly in the dry season when supply of water-power becomes scanty, the municipal commissioners submitted for the approval of Government a proposal for obtaining the supply in bulk from a company offering 6,600 volts high tension current at Sidrapong at the lowest rate and for extending the range of transmission of power to Sikkim in the north and the district of Jalpaiguri in the south. A lighting rate of 2 per cent. of the annual value of holding was imposed for the first time by the Kurseong municipality during the year under review. But the receipts from this source being inadequate to meet the expenditure, the municipal commissioners approached the Hydro-electric Company for a reduction of their existing high rate of Rs. 40 per light per annum.

13. Public Health.—Generally speaking, the municipal authorities showed keenness and energy in taking measures for the improvement of public health and specially for the prevention and control of epidemic diseases. There were outbreaks of smallpox in an epidemic form in Raniganj and Bankura, but the adoption of timely preventive measures checked the spread of the disease. In Dacca, the small-pox epidemic of the preceding year continued unabated during the first few months of the year under report and took a toll of 83 lives, while cholera also broke out in an epidemic form and accounted for 151 deaths, against 53 in the preceding year. Mymensingh was threatened with an outbreak of small-pox in an epidemic form, but the prompt measures taken by the municipality averted the danger. Small pox broke out in a serious epidemic form in Chittagong in December 1936. There were 648 attacks, of which 140 ended fatally. The Epidemic Diseases Act was promulgated throughout the municipal area and the municipal commissioners took prompt and effective measures for the control of the epidemic. There were outbreaks of cholera in certain municipalities in the Rajshahi Division especially in Rajshahi, Dinajpore, Rangpur and Pabna, but the prompt adoption of precautionary measures, such as inoculation, disinfection, isolation and segregation of patients, arrested the spread of the disease. Sporadic cases of cholera and small-pox occurred in a large number of municipalities but the permanent health staff maintained by the municipalities was able to check the epidemics by the timely adoption of preventive and curative measures. The Public Health staff was also employed in the work of vaccination and revaccination. Temporary vaccinators were appointed, when necessary, by some of the municipalities.

There was an alarming increase in the number of deaths from typhoid fever in Dacca, where 1006 persons died of it, as against 102 in the preceding year. The number of deaths from typhoid in Dacca is reported to have steadily increased during the last 14 years, and the existing privies are said to be active sources of propagation.

Beri-Beri broke out in an epidemic form at Rajbari in the district of Faridpur and affected a large portion of its population. Steps were, however, taken to circulate the instructions of the Public Health Department regarding the treatment of the disease and to induce the shop-keepers to stock fresh vegetables, rice, oil, etc. and fortunately almost all the patients recovered.

As regards preventive measures against malaria, most of the municipalities took steps for cutting down jungle and undergrowth, filling up insanitary ditches, khals and dobas, etc., and treating tanks and ditches with kerosene or other larvaecides. The notices issued by the municipalities to the owners and occupiers of private lands enjoining clearance of jungle and filling up of insanitary ditches are reported to have been complied with in the majority of cases. Raniganj spent Rs. 990 from the municipal fund in addition to a Government grant of Rs. 1,000 on anti-malarial measures, while Serampore and Arambagh also received grants from Government which were spent on such measures. The Bally municipality carried out anti-malarial works in co-operation with the East Indian Railway administration at Lillooah. Preventive and curative schemes for combating malaria on scientific lines were undertaken by a large number of municipalities in the Presidency Division with the co-operation of local anti-malarial societies where they existed, the activities of the Baruipur, Budge-budge, North Barrackpore and Baranagore Municipalities being worthy of mention in this connection. As in the preceding year, anti-malarial work was carried out in the Baruipore Municipality according to the plan drawn up by the Entomologist of the Public Health Department. In Budge Budge, the control measures initiated by the Director of Public Health, for which the municipality paid an annual contribution of Rs. 1,000 proved beneficial. Bhatpara, Krishnagar, Kushtia, Santipur and Jessore also did good work in this direction with financial help from Government. Anti-malarial measures were carried on in the Halisahar Municipality with the co-operation of the Eastern Bengal Railway authorities who deputed two medical officers for the purpose. It is regrettable that the Birnagar Palli Mandali, in the Presidency Division, which had been highly commended in previous resolutions, practically ceased to function during the year owing to lack of public support. The anti-malaria committee at Dacca carried on its operations in an area of 6 square miles at an annual recurring expenditure of over Rs. 8,000 and dealt with 21,916 patients. The spleen index recorded in the course of the malaria survey of the Skrine Canal area at Rangpur showed a considerable reduction in the incidence of malaria in the town and another survey was undertaken to ascertain the result of the improvement effected in the canal area. A scheme for carrying out anti-malarial measures in the town of Dinajpore was drawn up by the Entomologist of the Public Health Department and was adopted by the municipality with a Government grant of one-half of the estimated cost of the scheme. As in the previous years, steps were also taken by several municipalities to eradicate water-hyacinth and other noxious vegetation, the municipalities of Kanchrapara, Jessore, Narayanganj, Nator and Jalpaiguri doing particularly useful work in this connection.

The South Dum-Dum Municipality continued to maintain a kala-azar centre at the municipal charitable dispensary and also an anti rabic treatment centre in co operation with the Dum-Dum Municipality. Centres for treatment of anti-rabic cases under the decentralised scheme were maintained by the South Suburbun, Baruipur and Bally Municipalities. At Suri in the Birbhum district such cases were treated at the Sadar Hospital, the municipality meeting the cost of vaccine in the case of indigent residents. Arrangements for treatment of leprosy were maintained by a number of municipalities, the most prominent among them being Sonamukhi, Raniganj, Asansol, Berhampore, Chittagong and Dacca. In the last named municipality no fewer than 635 leprosy cases were treated during the year, of which 282 were new cases.

The Nabadwip Municipality continued to maintain a maternity home and orphanage in conjunction with the local lodging house committee. A fully equipped maternity home was constructed at Sherpur in the district of Mymensingh, thanks to the generosity of the Chairman of the municipality. The Rangpur Municipality also opened a maternity and child welfare centre, including a baby clinic, besides maintaining a training class for indigenous dais.

The administration of the Food Adulteration Act appears to have engaged the attention of most of the municipalities in the province; and the Municipalities of Nabadwip, Krishnagar, Dacca, Faridpur, Barisal, Gaibandha, Rangpur and Bally are reported to have been particularly active in this respect. There is, however, still considerable room for improvement in the activities in this sphere as the action so far taken cannot be said to have had any appreciable effect in checking the growing evil of adulteration of foodstuffs.

14. Public Works.—The amount spent on public works rose by about Rs. 94,000 to Rs. 14·71 lakhs, the increase occurring mainly under the heads "Roads" (Rs. 45,393) and "Establishment" (Rs. 33,470). The total mileage of roads maintained by the municipalities during the year was 3048·3 of which 1455·5 miles were metalled and the rest unmetalled. The condition of the roads is reported to have improved to some extent and the grants made by Government from the Motor Vehicles Tax Fund were very helpful in this connection and were usefully spent by the municipalities receiving them. In 8 municipalities in the Rajshahi Division, viz., Nator, Dinajpore, Gaibanda, Bogra, Sherpur, Sirajganj, English Bazar and Old Malda, however, the expenditure on roads, fell below the minimum standard fixed by Government. The Municipalities of Sherpur and Old Malda incurred no expenditure whatever from their own funds and the Dinajpore Municipality spent Rs. 7,358 less than the prescribed minimum. Four roads in the Rangpur Municipality were treated with coal-tar during the year and a progressive programme for painting the surface of all the principal roads was also drawn up. A five-year scheme for improvement and reconstruction of roads and drains at a cost of Rs. 27,000 was prepared by the Kurseong Municipality. Several municipalities, particularly in the Presidency Division were, however, handicapped by an excessive mileage of metalled and unmetalled roads, under their control which they could not properly maintain, as the expenditure involved was far beyond their resources.

15. Audit of accounts.—The accounts of all the municipalities, except Katwa, Serampore, Nabadwip, Debhatta, Noakhali and Brahmanbaria, were audited during the year. A case of defalcation of a sum of Rs. 1,943 was detected in Hooghly-Chinsura. The tax collector and the two collecting sarkars, who were implicated in the matter, were placed under suspension and prosecuted. The tax collector died during the pendency of the case but the other two persons were convicted and a portion of the defalcated amount was recovered from their security deposits and provident fund money. A case of embezzlement by the collecting sarkar occurred at Nabadwip and the accused was sent up for trial. A collecting sarkar of the Joynagar-Majilpur Municipality, who defalcated a sum of Rs. 11-6-3, was dismissed and his security deposit of Rs. 100 together with the interest accrued thereon and the sum earned by him as commission was forfeited. Instead however, of taking measures for his prosecution, which would have had a deterrent effect on other municipal employees, the municipal commissioners practically allowed the offence to be compounded by the payment of a sum of Rs. 200 to the municipal fund. A collecting sarkar of the Nawabganj Municipality was criminally prosecuted for defalcating a sum of Rs. 457-7 out of the taxes collected by him. Criminal proceedings were started against the tax daroga of the Rajshahi Municipality who was alleged to have dishonestly remitted a certain amount of municipal taxes as being irrecoverable. All these cases of defalcation and embezzlement appear to have been due mainly to lack of control and supervision by the municipal executives and non-compliance with, and laxity in the observance of, account rules and audit inspections.

16. General Remarks.—While the reports of the Divisional Commissioners present an encouraging record of useful work done by a majority of the municipalities of the Province, they also disclose serious lapses in certain cases and a tendency on the part of a few towards concentration of their resources on one single objective at the expense of other essential functions. The Chittagong Municipality, for instance, devoted an unusual proportion (about 38 per cent.) of its income towards an ambitious scheme of free primary education within the municipal area which was launched without due regard to the financial implications involved. Such a disproportionate diversion of effort and resources is not likely to achieve a maximum measure of social advantage, which can only be gained by a balanced distribution of funds among the various legitimate objectives of municipal self-government in proportion to the degree of their relative urgency and importance. It is hoped that the municipalities will aim at regulating their expendutre according to a carefully planned and balanced programme of work.

While the Divisional Commissioners' reports credit the municipalities with a sensitiveness to the various needs of urban life and a keen desire to supply them, they at the same time emphasise the general reluctance of the municipal commissioners to face the unpopular task of fresh and enhanced taxation and the laxity on their part in the matter of prompt and punctual recovery of municipal demands, which necessitated unduly heavy remissions, the writing off of large amounts and the accumulation of unduly heavy outstanding balances.

The position regarding the collection of taxes seems to be deteriorating from year to year in a large number of municipalities, mainly owing to the laxity on the part of the municipal executive in enforcing coercive measures. Most of these municipalities, which had been in arrears from the previous year or years, appear to have looked upon this deplorable state of affairs as irremediable and to have made no serious exertions to improve their financial position during the year under review, with the result that the situation was worse than ever at the end of the year. Government would appeal to these municipal executives to loose no further time in retrieving the position by adopting a policy of firmness, courage and vigour in discharging their responsibility in the matter of the prompt and punctual recovery of arrear dues as well as of current demands.

The audit reports disclosed numerous irregularities, financial or otherwise, indicating the same inattention to the comments and criticisms of the auditors and delay in attending to audit objections, as in the previous years.

On the other hand, it is satisfactory to note that in the year under review there were clear indications of very keen interest taken in elections by the voters as well as the candidates. The percentage of attendance at the polls was very satisfactory, and in several municipalities more than four-fifths of the total recorded female voters exercised their franchise. This points unmistakably to the growth of civic consciousness among the electors, which, as it gains in volume and intensity, will, it is hoped, exercise a salutary influence upon their elected representatives on the municipal boards and evoke in them a corresponding growth of the sense of civic responsibility and thus lead to an improvement in the general standard of municipal administration in the province.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 15th June 1938.

Summary.—Excepting light showers in places the rainfall was generally moderate to heavy. Preparation of lands for and sowing of winter paddy in seed-beds continue favourably. Sowings of jute and autumn paddy are almost over; weeding is in brisk progress. Growth of standing crops has been affected in places by the recent heavy rainfall. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 0·78 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

Provided that where any such sums as aforesaid have remained to the credit of such account for a period of twelve years from the date of transfer the same shall be transferred to the Government as if it were a sum transferable under section 52 of the Act.

Short title.

1. These rules may be called the Official Trustee's (Bengal) Rules. They shall come into force on the first day of July 1938.

(2) The Official Trustee may, if he thinks fit, accept a trust which involves the management or carrying on of any business, subject to the following conditions, namely—

(a) that he is satisfied that the management or carrying on of the business involves no risk of loss; and

(b) that his intervention is with a view to the sale, disposition, or winding up of the business; and

INTRODUCTORY NOTES.

Duration of primary course.

A primary school shall consist of four classes, and for this purpose, the classes shall be known as Classes I, II, III and IV. Primary education shall thus ordinarily last for four years. Normally, all children at the end of four years of primary education should be so equipped that if they wish to go higher, they may be able to finish the Matriculation Standard at the end of another six years. Hence, a pupil after passing the Primary Final Examination with English as an optional subject will be entitled to be admitted to class V of a High or a Middle English School. Otherwise he will be admitted normally to class III.

Staff.

Each school should ordinarily have three teachers—one headmaster and two assistant teachers; at least two of these three teachers shall be trained teachers.

Pay of teachers.

(1) Every School Board shall pay the teachers the following minimum salary, provided that the local authority may fix any higher salary that they may decide in individual cases or generally:—

	Per mensem. Rs.
Headmaster (who shall be a trained teacher)	16
A trained assistant teacher ...	12
An untrained assistant teacher	10

Any School Board at their option may fix a graded scale of pay for the teachers.

(2) Every School Board shall, as far as financially possible, appoint a certain number of teachers specially trained under the new scheme and such trained teachers shall receive the following scale of salaries:—

	Rs.

Class IV	..	...	30
	Total	...	135

If the roll strength goes substantially beyond this figure, an additional teacher shall be appointed for every 40 additional pupils.

Name.

It shall be open to School Boards or to a school committee to name a school as they like, so long as the general principles outlined in the scheme are followed.

Curriculum.

(1) There shall be the same general curricula for primary schools and maktabs and no essential difference in the standard of secular education in these two classes of schools.

Provision shall, so far as possible, be made in every primary school for religious instruction during school hours of every child attending the school, in the religion of the guardian of such child, provided that at the request in writing of the guardian of any child, such child shall be exempted from religious instruction.

Holidays.

Every School Board shall arrange holidays in primary schools in such a manner as to be suitable to local and seasonal needs, but the total number of holidays excluding Sundays shall not exceed 75 days; the Director of Public Instruction may, from time to time, issue instructions relating to holidays.

Compulsion.

Steps should be taken to introduce free and compulsory education for boys in conformity with the provisions of the Primary Education Act. There will be no compulsion for girls at the beginning, but it will be left to local option to demand compulsion for girls.

Fees in primary schools.

If a School Board in any district before the levy of the Primary Education Cess desires to levy fees in any primary school, such fees should not exceed two annas per month in any class, and children who are very poor, should invariably be exempted from payment.

Separate schools for girls.

Where the number of pupils justifies, there may be separate schools for boys and for girls, but otherwise all primary schools will be open to both boys and girls. No girl will, however, be compelled to attend any boys' school.

Optional teaching.

It shall be open to any primary institution to introduce other special features which may be suitably arranged through local and private efforts, such as the teaching of elementary English, Quoran classes, classes for teaching Hindu or Christian scriptures, etc., or any other subject of local interest, provided that all schools teaching such subjects in primary classes shall satisfy conditions to be prescribed by the Director of Public Instruction.

Syllabus of Physical Training for Primary Schools, Bengal.

(Not to be examined.)

CLASS I.

In arranging a syllabus for this, age, ability and characteristics of children must be carefully studied. Children are individualists and during the early years they must be permitted to develop along these lines. Some method of physical training is essential even from the early stages. This does not mean, however, that there should be formality and great precision. Infant work should be extremely informal. As much freedom of movement as possible should be permitted. Exact positions and stereotyped exercises are to be avoided. It must always be remembered that children should play. Infant lessons should be designed on this knowledge. The body must be kept flexible and those exercises which require free expenditure of energy should be chosen

Children have vivid imaginations. These should be used and developed by choosing imaginative exercises. Let the children pretend to be birds, animals, trains, etc.,

Since children are not able to concentrate for long periods at a time and as their physical training lessons are characterised by great activity, the lesson period should be short—20-30 minutes is the correct length.

The curriculum should include:—

(1) Running.—This should be free. Children should be allowed to run to their own rhythm. No outside rhythm should be imposed upon them. Various methods may be used; free running all over the room; running on toes; running with long steps; high steps, on tip-toe very quietly, etc. Playing trains, motor cars, aeroplanes, etc.

(2) Jumping and leaping.—This includes free skipping, jumping over low ropes, jumping into hoops or circles marked with chalk, jumping marked lines on the floor; the imitation of animals and birds, e.g., hopping like crows, jumping like kangaroos, leaping like squirrels, etc.

(3) Trunk exercises.—In this group movements in which the child bends down towards the floor and returns to an erect position are used, e.g., cross-leg sitting, putting the head on the floor, standing putting the head on the knee or trying to see the person behind by looking through the legs, alternatively being giants and dwarfs, tall and small, picking up flowers, etc. Again these movements should be large and free.

(4) Balance.—It is not too soon to begin teaching simple balance movements at this age. They must also be of the informal kind. They include standing on one foot holding the other; hopping on one foot; standing on tip-toe, running on toes flying like birds and then coming to rest on the branch of a tree; walking on toes along a line, etc.

(5) Games.—At this age games in which children can take part individually are the best. There are numerous circle games and group games. Those of the chasing variety are best—"Fire on the mountains," "Fox and geese," "Soldiers and brigands," etc. In these games there is an element of suspense which children find particularly attractive. Free play with balls may be started in the kindergarten but must not take the place of games proper. Relay races and team games, games of physical skill and strength have no place at this period.

Action songs and singing games are particularly useful in Class 1. For the physical activity lesson, however, only those which have lively activity and large movements should be used. It must be kept in mind that the song and the words are subsidiary to the action which should be performed in a lively energetic manner.

Apparatus required.—Chalk, ropes, large ball –two or three for the class, small balls—one for each child, bean bags, hoops, coloured bands.

The lesson.—This should consist of—

(1) An introductory period of running, skipping, etc.
(2) Trunk exercises.
(3) Balance exercises.
(4) Jumping exercises.
(5) Games—two or three games should be played. These may be chosen from the games group entirely or one action song or singing game may be used as one of the activities.
(6) Final—quiet walking around the room before going to class-work.

CLASS II.

The transition from Class I to Class II is so slight that it is almost impossible to state any definite change in the exercises. The programme must continue to be characterised by great activity and imagination should still be used.

More formality should be introduced and children should begin to be taught line formations. In the early stages of Class II the lessons should be very similar to those of Class I, but gradually new forms of exercise should be introduced calling for more control and precision. Whereas in previous lessons movements were mostly of the free type, now they can be done with counting. Care however must be taken to see that with the introduction of counting, exercises do not become slow and methodical.

A greater range of exercises will be taught at this age, arriving at more localised movement.

The syllabus for Class II should be based on the following:—

(1) Walking.—The foundations of an upright carriage, the correct use of legs and feet should be taught. At first walking should be free and to the children's own rhythm. Later line formations may be used and a class rhythm attempted. There should be no effort yet to insist on right and left feet being used at the same time. Only a short period should be given to this as it is less important. The use of clapping and stamping to teach rhythm should be started. If these methods are used, however, clapping and stamping should be continuous, not on alternative beats or one in four, etc. This interrupts the range of movement.

(2) Running.—As in the previous class but with more spring and agility. Running following the leader; running into circles, mazes, etc.

(3) Jumping and leaping.—A continuation of previous work, attempting lighter landings and more control. There will be fewer imaginative jumps. Rhythm can now be introduced into jumping, e.g., four jumps forward and four backward in rhythm.

(4) Head exercises.—These are used to increase the flexibility of the neck muscles and of the cervical spine. They will assist in the development of good posture. Head turning, nodding, bending and rolling in all directions should be used. At first these exercises should be in the form of play, e.g., head bending from side to side like a ticking clock; head rolling like a ball; head bobbing like a wood-pecker, etc. The use of imaginative exercises in the early stages is more useful for obtaining mobility and range of movement.

(5) Trunk exercises.—In addition to those of the previous class, more flexible movements should be introduced, e.g., trunk bending forward and downward, grasping the ankle with both hands, and pressing the head with little bobbing movements against the knee. This can be done in standing or sitting positions. After the forward and downward bending, children must be encouraged to return to an erect position.

(6) Arm exercises.—The introduction of arm exercises is for the purpose of producing mobility and range of movement in the shoulder joint, to strengthen the muscles of the forearm and the shoulder girdle. For Class II arm swinging and circling should be used. e.g., swinging forward and backwards; upwards and downwards; clapping overhead and behind back; tapping the thighs lightly and arm raising to "yard" or "fly."

(7) Balance exercises.—An attempt should be made to increase the difficulty of the balance exercises of the previous class by having positions held for a longer period and by combining two or more of the balances used in the previous year. Balance exercise will progress slowly. Still use imaginative exercises gradually introducing others.

(8) Lateral exercises.—Lessons should now be designed to include those exercises which will help to develop the muscles of the lateral trunk to improve the flexibility of the spine laterally and to stimulate the circulation to and the function of the liver and viscera. In Class II these exercises should be of the most simple sideways bending and sideways turning variety. In this group also, imagination must be used, e.g., a cat chasing its tail, shooting bows and arrows; turning to the left and right pointing as far back as possible; kneeling and touching the floor three times to the right and left, etc.

(9) Class activity or group practice.—Whereas in Class I the whole lesson was one of great activity and of individualism, now with the introduction of slight formality the class should begin to learn to work together. During the activity and group practice period, children should learn to handle small balls, to practise jumping and leaping in groups, e.g., over low ropes or forms, over a swinging rope, forward and backward rolls and easy stunts.

(10) Games.—The games for Class II are very similar to those for Class I including singing games and action songs.

Lesson plan.—

(1) Introduction—walking, running, rhythmic jumping, skipping, etc.

(2) Head and neck.

(3) Trunk forward and downward bending.

(4) Arm-swinging, circling, etc.

(5) Balance.

(6) Lateral.

(7) Class activity and group practice

(8) Games.

Apparatus required.—

Large and small balls.

Bean bags.

Ropes.

Hoops.

Coloured bands.

CLASSES III AND IV.

The same general underlying principles as used for Classes I and II will be employed for Classes III and IV. Less imagination and more precision will be attempted. The lesson must still be one of much activity. Exercises should be stronger and a definite attempt be made to produce form. This can be achieved particularly in stressing control in jumping and balancing, by making the children more conscious of movement, its range and its uses.

(1) Marching.—Correct marching, all using the left foot at the same time, should now be attempted. Very little time, however, should be put on this exercise.

(2) Running and jumping.—Combinations of runs and skips; gallop style forward and sideways; about running, maze running, rhythm jumps, e.g., astride jumping, bob jumping, sky jumping, etc.

(3) Head exercises.—Bending, turning, nodding, bobbing, upward stretching, done in cross sit, knelling and standing positions.

(4) Trunk exercises.—Forward and downward bends, introducing easy auxiliary arm movement, e.g., long stride sit, tap the floor twice and forward and downward bends to touch the toes; stand, tap the thighs, knees and touch the toes, etc.

(5) Arm exercises.—In addition to the swinging and circling movements used in the previous classes, there should now be added arm bending and stretching movements. At first these should be done with a single arm and in one direction only. Gradually use two arms, combine directions and combine bending and stretching with swinging and circling. This progression must not be rushed.

(6) Balance.—Increase the difficulty of balance exercises, e.g., heels raise, knees full bend, hold the position and clap overhead three times, knees stretch, heels lower; arms and leg forward raise, sideways swing, position, wing stand, leg swinging forwards and backwards, etc.

(7) Abdominal.—These are introduced to strengthen the muscles of the abdominal wall, to improve the circulation to aid the function of the internal organs of designation and elimination. These exercises include lying on the back and bicycling; bunny jumps on the spot; alternate leg lifting knee upward bending grasping it with both hands and pulling it to the chest; back lying coming to a sitting position, etc.

(8) Lateral.—Trunk turning and bending sideways with the addition of arm movements. Good positions should be achieved in lateral exercises at this age.

(9) Class activity and group practice.- A continuation of the previous work introducing skipping of various kinds, jumping over benches, on to benches, off benches, the practice of controlling landings in jumps, the better handling of balls of all sizes, fundamental practices of throwing, catching, dodging, etc.

Games.—At this stage there should be an introduction of single relay races and team games. The group spirit should be developed and the individualistic element lessened.

The lesson plan followed is the same as that used for Classes I and II with the addition of an abdominal exercise after the balance group.

Apparatus required.—

Large and small balls.
Skipping ropes.
Bean bags.
Benches.
Coloured bands.

1. Chapter XXIV, Rule 42 of the Rules and Orders be amended by adding a "comma" and the words "or under Rule 43 of this Chapter" after the word "costs".

2. After Rule 42 of Chapter XXIV of the Rules and Orders the following rules be inserted as Rules 43(1) and (2), 44, 45, 46, 47(a) and (b), and Rules 43, 44 and 45 be renumbered as Rules 48, 49 and 50:—

Deposit by defendant of amount in satisfaction of claim.

"43. (1) In any suit to recover a debt or damages, the defendant may, at any stage of the suit, after entering appearance, deposit with the Registrar such a sum of money as he considers a satisfaction in full of the claim, or (where several causes of action are joined in one suit) such sum or sums of money as he considers to be satisfaction in full of one or more of the causes of action. Such deposit shall be made upon requisition in writing in Form No. 1 to the Registrar specifying whether the payment is in satisfaction in full of the claim or in satisfaction of one or more of the causes of action and, in the latter case, the particular cause or causes of action and the sum paid in respect of each such cause of action, and stating whether liability is admitted or denied;

Notice.

"(2) Notice of such deposit as aforesaid shall be issued by the Registrar in Form No. 2 and shall contain the particulars specified in the above sub-rule (1) and shall be served on the plaintiff, in the manner prescribed for service of notices, by the defendant or his attorney and shall be filed with an affidavit of service thereof.

Such a candidate will have to apply to the Divisional Inspector of Schools for permission to sit for the Test Examination mentioning therein that his application for sanction to his migration is pending before the University.

3. Private candidates offering hygiene as one of their subjects need not obtain the previous permission of University for that purpose. They should submit to the Divisional Inspector of Schools, along with their applications for permission to appear at the Test Examination, certificates of training in it from a recognised medical practitioner or from a recognised teacher in hygiene.

4. Application for permission to appear at the Test Examination must be sent in time in duplicate in the enclosed form so as to reach this office not later than the 15th September 1938.

(ii) In the case of a teacher candidate from the Secretary of the school where the candidate is serving a certificate as follows:—

"I hereby certify that..... has been serving as a teacher in my school since..... He bears a good conduct."

6. The Inspector of Schools on being satisfied will grant necessary permission and will return the application, which will then be the candidate's passport for admission to the Test Examination.

7. Each private student will have to pay a fee of Rs. 5 to the head of the institution in which he appears for the Test Examination. No private student will be admitted to the Test Examination unless he is identified by some person known to the headmaster of the institution in which he appears.

8. Every candidate must deposit his fee for the Test Examination with the headmaster of the institution in which he intends to appear, at least 15 days before the date of the examination. The headmaster will then deposit the amount realised by him into the local Treasury and forward a copy of the Treasury chalan to this office. They will then grant the necessary certificate and forward the applications to the Inspector for countersignature, after which they will be returned to the headmasters for delivery to the candidates concerned.

10. In no circumstances should the fee for the Matriculation Examination be sent to the Inspector's office. It should be sent to the Controller of Examinations, Calcutta University, by the candidates themselves, together with the countersigned applications.
